DEBATING FOR WAR.

Senators Discuss the Grave Question.

Turner Makes a Strong Plea for Action.

Hoar, for Peace, Defends the President.

There is Great Desire to Talk and a Vote Will Not be Taken Until Friday--In Congress.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The senate will not reach a vote on the Cuban resolutions, presented Wednesday by the committee on foreign affairs, until Friday. Today the session was devoted to discussion of the resolutions and there are yet many senators who desire to be heard.

THE DAY'S SESSION.

Senate Begins a Long Discussion of the Cuban Resolutions.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The action of the house of representatives yesterday adopting its declaration upon the Hispano-American situation, made the senate today the storm center of the war elements. The galleries were packed and thousands were turned away.

Mr. Hale, of Maine, presented a memorial from the National Civil club, of Brooklyn, calling attention to the necessity, in the event of war with Spain, of repealing some of the present navigation laws. The laws, as they are at present, it said, would prevent our merchant vessels from sailing under a foreign flag, while every Spanish merchantman would be under the French flag.

Our ships would, therefore, be preyed upon by Spanish privateers.

Mr. Hale said the question raised was a most serious one. He thought it would be mortifying and humiliating to this country for its vessels engaged in commerce to fly the flag of any other country than our own. He asked that the memorial be referred to the committee on commerce, which, he hoped, would give it thoughtful consideration.

"REMEMBER THE MAINE."

Mr. Penrose, of Pennsylvania, presented a telegram from Philadelphia, which was read as follows: "House resolution dish water. Davis resolution satisfactory. Remember the Maine."

A message was received from the house transmitting to the senate the Cuban resolution passed by the house.

By unanimous consent at the request of Mr. Davis, chairman of the foreign relations committee, the resolution yesterday reported by the foreign relations committee was laid before the senate.

Mr. Turner began a speech in which he sharply criticized the administration for "its vacillating and irresolute, cowardly and pusillanimous policy."

Pursued by it in the Cuban question, he said that the developments of the past few weeks had shaken his faith in those who had the president's ear and confidence.

Mr. Turner declared himself strongly in favor of the resolution presented by the minority of the committee on foreign relations and for so doing said he needed no further justification than the magnificent state paper which accompanied the majority report. He declared, however, that the same malevolent influences which had paralyzed the executive and almost caused the people to revolt were still at work. If these influences should succeed the whole country would know the disgraceful story and the nation would be shamed.

Mr. Turner maintained that congress could not delegate to the president the power to make war. "The congress of the United States is the organized conscience of the country," said he, "and it is the only power which can take the dread step of war."

After vehemently attacking the president for the delays which had occurred in the sending of his message to congress, he charged that the delay last week was not due to the request of General Lee, but to the fact that Archbishop Ireland had cabled to the vatican in the hope that the holy father might be able to bring about a peaceful solution of the difficulty. The president was waiting upon the pope's action taken to secure that which American diplomacy had failed to obtain.

Mr. Turner ridiculed the diplomatic negotiations of the administration and demanded to know whether congress wanted more of it. He declared the state department, even with the support of justice, was weak and unavailing. At the Spanish end of our diplomatic line we had as minister a man whose desire for peace was so strong that he refused to obey the plain instructions of his superiors. Mr. Turner declared with bitter sarcasm that with such diplomatic agents representing the United States the Madrid government might, eventually, for a suitable indemnity, absolve this country for blocking the harbor of Havana with the shattered hull of the Maine.

The flashing sword of the United States must be drawn for Cuban independence and it would be wielded by an arm stronger than ever. Once uplifted it should never be lowered until Spain was driven from the western hemisphere. He read several telegrams from prominent citizens of Washington in order to indicate the drift of sentiment in that state. One from the governor declared that intervention without recognition of independence would be utterly unsatisfactory. Another from the colonel of the first regiment, Uniformed Rank, Knights of Pythias, which had tendered to the president their services in case of war, directed him to withdraw the offer, as it had been made under the impression that they would be called upon to fight Spaniards, not Cubans.

HOAR DEFENDS THE PRESIDENT.

Mr. Hoar followed Mr. Turner. He thought the present was no time for impassioned rhetoric and manifestations of approval of war sentiment. He did not feel disposed to sneer at expressions of emotion over the outrages of the Cuban war, for they indicated true natures. They called for his profoundest respect. As for himself, he felt like entering upon the Cuban question with the seriousness with which he would attend church. If we were going to take action in Cuba's behalf, it should be done as an act of justice and not of revenge. He did not accept the doctrine in this connection of an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.

Mr. Hoar deprecated the exhibitions of feeling toward the president, who was, he said, in diplomacy the representative of the people and what the president does we, as a people, do. As for himself he not only approved what the president had done but what he had refrained from doing.

Mr. Hoar said that in case of war we could count upon many disasters like that of the Maine and a great increase of the public debt. He said that Senator Turner, who represents only half a state, was making the president, who represents forty-five states, the subject of the same kind of objurgations that were inflicted upon Washington. He predicted that McKinley's fame would not suffer.

Mr. Hoar said it would be well for the impetuous people of this day to remember Abraham Lincoln's counsels in the early stages of the civil war and not to forget Bull Run.

Mr. Hoar did not agree with Senator Foraker that belligerency should have been recognized. This recognition would not have done the insurgents any good and it would have given the Spaniards authority to search our ships.

Mr. Hoar spoke of the sympathy of England at the present crisis, saying that it might be needed before long and that it was not wise to reject. This sympathy had, he said, been won for us by the bearing of the president. He said he also concurred in the views of the president regarding the recognition of the present Cuban government. To recognize them now would be to disown our country's history.

Mr. Hoar said if we departed from the rules of international law we cannot blame the nations of the world for sympathizing with Spain. As to recognizing the insurgents, Mr. Hoar asked how we could recognize a community as the government of the island which had only one-third of the population.

Other senators insisted that the Cubans who sympathized with the insurgents made up a population of nearly 70 per cent. of the population.

Mr. Hoar took issue with Senators Foraker and Lindsay that the United States would be responsible for the Spanish debt in case of intervention. While he admired the course of the insurgents in many things it must not be forgotten that they had begun their system of destruction before the reconcentrado orders were issued.

Mr. Hoar expressed the opinion that the one course open to the United States in the present emergency was intervention. Mr. Hoar said he would accept the house resolution and indicated that he preferred them to the senate resolutions. He thought the outrage on the Maine was an instance of proof of Spain's incapacity to rule in Cuba and he declared the incident would have its own consideration. He believed the explosion a meditated act, of which Spanish officials were guilty.

Mr. Hoar believed the Spanish government responsible and that it should be held responsible. Yet to acquit Blanco as Gen. Lee had done would be to acquit Spain of direct agency, as he was the responsible representative of Spain. If necessary, Mr. Hoar thought the Maine affair such as to justify war. Still, he thought honorable reparation might possibly be secured without war.

Mr. Hoar spoke of the inadequacy of our navy as a good explanation of the delay of this country, and said it had been the cause of much humiliation to us. He said he would vote for the house resolution and he thought its enactment would lead to war. He thought it would be an honorable and justifiable war.

He wanted a united country behind any war movement of the president and congress and of all parties and with the sanction of the civilized world.

Mr. Hoar was applauded when he closed.

SENATOR TURPIE'S ATTITUDE.

Mr. Turpie, Indiana, followed Mr. Hoar in a speech for the recognition of the Cuban republic.

Mr. Turpie thought the existence of the Cuban republic was the first fact to be recognized. This was especially due from the United States.

Mr. Turpie thought the people of Cuba had earned nationality. If recognized as a nation it would rest with them to do as they might please with the Cuban debt.

Cuba would not in case of her independence be in any wise bound to pay the debt of the mother country and she could only be so bound by her own consent.

There had been a question raised as to what Cuba would pay and that Gomez had said that no responsibility would be assumed.

Mr. Turpie contended that but for the Spanish war debt the recognition of belligerency would have been granted before this time. He refuted the assertion that the Cuban government was insolvent and declared it was practically without debt.

Mr. Turpie thought at the same time the divine right of kings to reign in this continent was extinguished, the right of the bondholders should be similarly treated. Cuba should not be responsible for any part of the Spanish debt.

Mr. Turpie construed the president's reference to international obligations as employing a possibility that the Spanish debts were to be cared for by any government that might be set up in Cuba. This possibility should be avoided by recognizing the present government.

Senator Pettigrew offered a substitute for the preceding resolutions declaring that war exists and authorizing the president to use the land and naval forces to prosecute it.

SENATOR GRAY IS LOFTY.

Mr. Gray followed Mr. Turpie, saying that he would not consider such inconceivably low considerations as to who should pay the Spanish bonds. He was born without suspicion but he would confess to great concern for the honor and glory of his country.

TROOPS ARRIVE.

Twenty-Fifth Infantry Reaches Chattanooga Today.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 14.—The first section of the special train bearing the Twenty-fifth infantry, is due to arrive in Chattanooga at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. The Southern railway has a special train in waiting for the two companies scheduled to go through to Key West and the Chattanooga Rome and Southern is prepared to take the others to the park without delay. The camp will be located a quarter of a mile from the park headquarters on Lytle field.

MILITARY PREPARATIONS MADE.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—General Miles said today that up to this time no further movements of troops other than those announced some time ago had been ordered, nor had any call for volunteers been issued.

The war department officials have completed preparations for any movement of troops towards a common centre and for calling out the militia whenever such a step is regarded as necessary. If the intervention resolution should be enacted by both houses immediately the orders to move the troops probably would be promptly issued.

LINES TIGHTEN.

No News Respecting Naval Movements Will Be Given Out.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Gradually the lines are tightened around the news centres of the naval department. Some time ago Captain Crowninshield, chief of the bureau of navigation, issued an order forbidding any of the employes of his bureau giving out news except on permission from him. This did not interfere with the posting of the movements of ships in the navigation bureau which has been done for a long time past.

THAT SPANISH MINE.

General Lee Gives Striking Testimony.

Infernal Machine Handled by Experts.

Spanish Officers Doubtless the Miscreants.

Mass of Important Information Given by General Lee to the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The testimony taken before the senate committee on foreign relations in connection with the investigation into the relations between the United States and Cuba was made public today. It constitutes a book of about 650 pages, and includes not only the testimony taken since the disaster to the Maine, but also much that was taken before, and running back for a year or more.

The statement which contains the greatest current interest is that made by Consul General Lee on the 12th instant. In this statement, General Lee said that he was informed on very good authority that the Spaniards had placed two rows of torpedos just at the mouth of the Havana harbor by Morro castle within the past two months, or subsequent to the Maine disaster, and that the switchboard is in a room in the castle.

He said, however, that he had no information of the placing of any torpedoes before the Maine was destroyed, and none in regard to the purchase abroad by the Spanish authorities.

"Have you any reason to suppose that the harbor was mined at all before the blowing up of the Maine?" asked Senator Frye.

DID NOT SUSPECT MINES.

"No, sir; I had no reason to suspect anything of that sort up to that time." He then went on to say that General Weyler's letter to Santos Guzman had led him to believe that mines might have been placed there previous to the Maine incident, and he said that this supposition was strengthened by a telegram from General Weyler, of which he had cognizance.

Upon the whole he thought the Weyler letter (the Lane letter) was a correct copy of a genuine letter. The telegram to which he referred was addressed to Eva Canel, a noted Spanish woman and an admirer of Weyler, and to Senor Guzman, and it read as follows:

"Grave circumstances cause me to ask you to destroy the last letter of February 18th."

General Lee said that this telegram had never before been published and he found in it strong confirmatory evidence of the genuineness of the Weyler letter.

EXPLOSION WAS EXTERNAL.

With reference to the responsibility for the destruction of the Maine General Lee said:

"I am satisfied the explosion was from the outside. I cabled the state department a few days after the board assembled that it was almost certain that the explosion was from the exterior.

"I have always had an idea about the Maine that, of course, it was not blown up by any private individual or by any private citizen, but it was blown up by some of the officers who had charge of the mines and electrical wires and torpedoes in the arsenal there who thoroughly understood their business, for it was done remarkably well.

EXONERATES GENERAL BLANCO.

"I do not think General Blanco, the present captain and governor general of the island of Cuba, had anything to do with it. I do not think he had any knowledge of it. I saw him just shortly after the occurrence. I was sitting in my room at the hotel when. I heard the explosion and saw a great column of fire go up into the air. A few moments after ascertaining that it was the Maine I went right down to the palace and asked for General Blanco. He came in directly by himself. He had just heard it and was crying; tears were coming out of his eyes. He seemed to regret it as much as anybody I saw in Havana; but I think it came from some of the subaltern officers who had been there under Weyler, and who were probably anti-Blanco anyhow, and who had full knowledge of the business."

A SUSPICIOUS TELEGRAM.

General Lee said that he had seen a copy of a telegram from Admiral Manterolla, dated in Havana, prior to the explosion to the Maine to the Spanish commission in London, asking the commission to "hurry up the electric cables."

"Whether that referred to wire for submarine mines or torpedoes I do not know," he continued. "I tried to ascertain if any of the wire or electrical cables had arrived there, but they came on Spanish ships and I could not find out."

General Lee said that this testimony in regard to Manterolla and also that with reference to the Weyler telegram, had been furnished to the court of inquiry which investigated the Maine disaster, but had not been sent to congress nor published because of a request of his made to the state department not to make them public, "as I was afraid the Spanish papers there would republish it and they would probably kill the man that gave it to me."

Continuing his testimony, General Lee said that ten minutes after the explosion he was at the palace talking to General Blanco and that the latter gave him an order for a boat to take him out into the harbor. Senator Morgan asked if, when the got to the water's edge, he saw any lights burning.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS DID NOT GO OUT.

"I did not notice that," said General Lee, "but I have made inquiries since and have ascertained that no electric lights went out. I sent for electric light men and gas men. Some gas jets went out in one or two places, caused by the shock or something, but I could not ascertain from these men that a single electric light went out. One of the electric light men whom I called up is a friend of mine, and he sent for the man who has direct charge of the lights who came to my office. This man said he had not heard of any such thing. I said I wanted to know with certainty.

"The man then made a new exploration of an hour or two and returned, saying that with the exception of one electric light near the harbor and one at another place, not very far distant, where he thought perhaps the lights might have gone out by the shock, no other electric lights went out."

General Lee also said that he had not felt the shock of the explosion at his hotel.

"Have you heard since the explosion of the Maine any expression by Spanish officers in relation to it, indicating their pleasure at the fact?" asked Senator Frye.

SPANISH SOLDIERS MADE MERRY.

General Lee responded:

"I heard two or three days afterwards from various persons who came in that there was a good deal of rejoicing among some of the officers. All reports I got said they were drinking champaign, quite a thing to do, in honor of the event, and in different portions of the city officers were making merry. I attribute it to the fact that what they considered almost an enemy's battleship had been blown up, and it was that much in their favor." He said that he had not heard any threats of or allusions to the destruction of the Maine previous to the explosion. Senator Lodge asked if he had heard of an attempt on the Montgomery.

"I heard," responded General Lee, "that there was something of that sort one evening, but I believe upon investigation it was found that it did not amount to anything."

The following colloquy between Senator Foraker and General Lee brought out some further opinions of the general in regard to the destruction of the Maine:

Senator Foraker—You think that no novice could have destroyed the Maine?

Consul General Lee—Oh, no, sir. The man who did that work was an officer thoroughly acquainted with explosives of all sorts, and who knew all about it. It was very well done.

THE WORK OF AN EXPERT.

Senator Foraker—A man who had expert knowledge, necessarily?

Consul General Lee—Yes, sir.

Senator Clark—And who must have had knowledge of the location of the torpedo?

Consul General Lee—Yes. I never have been certain that the submarine explosive was placed there prior to the entrance of the Maine into the harbor. It might have been done afterwards. The Maine was anchored to a buoy by some little chain. A vessel swinging around that way sometimes gets at various places all around the circle. When she would swing off that way, with the bow next to the buoy and these boats plying about the harbor all the time, anybody could go pretty well in front of her on a dark night and drop one of these submarine mines of 500 pounds. They have fingers, as it were, and as the boat goes around it would touch the finger, which makes contact and explodes the mine. That might have been done after the Maine got in there and not be discovered. One or two men rowing quietly in a boat could drop it off the stern of the boat on a dark night, though Sigsbee had his patrols out. A boat would not have been noticed, because boats go there always to a late hour of the night. The harbor is full of these little boats. A mine weighs about 500 pounds and I suppose it would take two or three men—one man to row and probably three or four to handle the mine."

Senator Lodge asked: "What does this cessation of hostilities spoken of in the last few days amount to?" to which General Lee responded, "Nothing; practically nothing—the armistice amounts to nothing."

SPAIN IN AN UPROAR

Policy of the Ministry Breeds Wrath.

Madrid Journals Say Spain Is Betrayed.

Discontent Crystallizes About Weyler.

Military Journals Froth With Anger and Call Upon the Butcher to Redeem the Honor of Spain.

[The following cablegram is delayed several days, owing to the rigid censorship exercised by the government in Madrid. It confirms the meagre statements cabled early in the week that the situation in Spain is much more serious than the news that passed the censorship indicated.—ED.]

MADRID, April 10, via Bayonne, France, April 14.—8. A. M.—The feature of the opposition press is the endeavor to bring General Weyler to the front and make him the champion of the revolution, under the guise of a savior of the national honor. The general today undoubtedly has numerous followers, and even the newspapers which, ever since his return from Cuba, have violently denounced him, are now lauding the former captain general of Cuba as the one man who can save the situation.

The Pais, under large headlines reading "Great treason—Spain is sold," says:

"It is in the atmosphere one breathes. It is on our lips, is sticking in our throats and palpitating in our hearts. When ready to fight, we have been vilely sold. Yesterday we were men, today we are women. But the country will avenge the treason."

Then the Pais turns to General Weyler, after having been unfriendly to him for a long time, and exclaims:

"General Weyler is not alone in appreciating the present dishonor. He is backed by numerous republicans, patriotic Carlists, the Robledo conservatives, which party is composed of many senators and deputies and the representatives of provinces; all the loyal Spaniards in Cuba with the volunteers, the leaders of the army who blush under the stigma of the army, and he will have the support of the masses, who are only waiting for a guide and leader. General Weyler is not alone. No general and no political personage has more followers today than he has. May General Weyler not disappoint the hopes of so many patriots."

The military press is divided in opinion on the subject, the Correo Militar admitting, however, that the decision of the movement to suspend hostilities has had "a lamentable effect upon the army."

The Correo Espanal publishes a slashing article against the government, asking the ministers derisively where they will go after making every possible concession and yielding even the honor of Spain to McKinley."

This causes the Correspenal to say that it thanks the ministry "with a contemptuous kick," adding: "Our pen falls from our hand as we contemplate the cowardice on one side and the villainy on the other. It is impossible to write of it seriously. We must be governed by the hermaphrodites of fathers and must hide the tear which runs down the cheek, while the lips curl in supreme sarcasm. We laugh while our teeth clinch, the bile turns in our stomach, anger heats our blood and our hands instinctively seek an avenging weapon."

The feeling in Madrid tonight is stronger than ever. All parties are uniting against the government and there are sinister references to the "Austrian," which mean that the queen regent, who has never been popular in Madrid, is rapidly falling into increased disfavor. The feeling against her majesty is exasperated by the quotations from the English and French papers of the suggestions of Emperor Francis Joseph respecting Cuba.

The following quotation from the Pais has much between the lines:

"Carlist circles are boiling at the arrest of Baron San Guerren. Government circles maintain their outward composure, but the measures taken for the preservation of order reveal anxiety."

The Heraldo and Correo continue their attacks upon the government, and the impression which generally prevails is that if an external war is avoided an internal conflict is certain. This day's issue of the Pais was confiscated and copies of the papers were only obtainable surreptitiously.

It headed its leading article "Austrian Gifts," and said:

"Easter has brought Spain resurrection. The passion is only beginning in the garden of olives. The crucifixion, however, is near, Judas having given the traitor's kiss."

RIOTING IN VALENCIA.

Big Revolutionary Demonstration in the Spanish City.

LONDON, April 14.—According to a special dispatch this afternoon from Madrid, there was a big revolutionary demonstration at Valencia, capital of the Spanish province of that name, yesterday evening. Large crowds assembled, a red flag was displayed and wavel and the "Marseillaise" was sung. The police, it is added, dispersed the people who took part in the demonstration and captured the red flag.

WILLING TO FIGHT.

Spanish Cabinet Minister Says Spain is Ready to Take Consequences.

LONDON, April 14.—According to a special dispatch from Madrid today a Spanish cabinet has declared in an interview that "should President McKinley notify Spain to evacuate Cuba, this government will immediately and emphatically refuse and will add it is fully prepared to take the consequences."

"The government," continued the cabinet minister, "does not regret according the armistice, as it has thereby improved its position from an international point of view, and has made it more difficult for the United States to intervene without putting itself completely in the wrong."

WILL NOT ARBITRATE.

Swiss Bundesrath Votes Down Proposal to Mediate in Spanish Imbroglio.

BERNE, Switzerland, April 14.—The suggestion made yesterday by the national council that the bundesrath consider whether it could not offer to mediate between the United States and Spain was brought before the bundesrath today and was unanimously rejected.

WEYLER SUMMONED.

Government Calls Him Hastily to Madrid.

The Late Commander in Cuba Believes War With the United States to be Inevitable.

MADRID, April 14.—General Weyler, the former captain general of Cuba arrived in Madrid today, apparently being called here by the government.

He was met at the railroad station by General Pratt, in full uniform and many friends, military men and civilians.

The governor of Madrid prohibited the demonstrations which it was proposed to make, and adopted precautionary measures.

There was a detachment of police at the station, there were policemen in the streets, through which the general passed, and police officers were stationed even within the entrance to the general's residence.

From the railroad station the former captain-general was driven rapidly to his home in a carriage, accompanied by Senor Mesamena, a member of the chamber of deputies.

When questioned on the subject, General Weyler refused to say he was called to Madrid by the government, but he added, speaking to the correspondent of the Associated Press:

"I have indeed offered my services to the queen. I consider war with America inevitable, or Cuba is lost to Spain. I believe war is preferable to a continuation of the prolonged tension between Washington and Madrid."

CABINET COUNCIL HELD.

MADRID, April 14.—2 P. M.—A cabinet council at which the queen regent presided, was held this afternoon.

MADRID, April 14.—3:15 P. M.—The queen regent at the cabinet council signed the national subscription decree to increase the navy.

CAMPOS EXPECTS WAR.

MADRID, April 14.—9 A. M.—Marshal Martinos De Campos, the former captain general of Cuba, is quoted in an interview in the Liberal as having declined to express an opinion on the situation, owing to the fact that it might interfere with the course of events. He added that "intervention" and "requiring complete freedom" were compromising statements on one side or the other. The general, however, ventured to describe the situation as being most grave.

FLEET STILL AT VERDE ISLANDS.

ST. VINCENT, Cape Verde Island, April 14.—The Spanish armored cruisers Cristobal Colon and Maria Teresa have arrived here. The Spanish torpedo flotilla is still in these waters.

WAR IS CERTAIN.

MADRID, April 14.—9 A. M.—The newspapers here regard war inevitable. The last dispatches from Washington have created profound excitement throughout Spain. The Spaniards protest against the "odious imputation" that Spanish officers were responsible for the loss of the maine. It is asserted here that proof can be furnished to show that no torpedos have been laid in Havaa harbor. The Official Gazette tomorrow will publish a decree organizing a national subscription to increase the strength of the Spanish fleet.

HOUSE WILL SWITCH.

Senate Resolution Will Pass That Body.

Republicans Already Organizing the Movement.

Fear a Delay Will Follow a Conference.

It is Believed That the Senate Resolutions Will Prevail in the House by an Overwhelming Majority.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Some of the house republicans are already organizing a movement looking to the acceptance of the senate resolutions when they pass that body. They fear that if the resolutions go to a conference concessions may be made and delay may follow.

The senate resolutions being the more vigorous please many of the radicals better than the house resolutions. Mr. Bromwell, of Ohio, and other republicans of the house after visiting their colleagues at the other end of the capitol today came back jubilant over the prospect that the senate would be held in continuous session until the vote was taken.

They have been conferring with their colleagues and the democrats and Mr. Bromwell says he believes a motion to accept the senate resolutions will prevail in the house by an overwhelming majority.

WILL PREVENT OBSTRUCTION.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The senators who are anxious for early action on the Cuban resolutions have determined to hold continuous sessions if there is any disposition to delay action by debate.

The more radical senators say there are votes enough to adopt the Turpie amendment recognizing the present Cuban government. Those who think this is possible seem to think the house and senate will then compromise on substantially the majority resolutions of the senate committee.

POLO READY TO LEAVE.

MR. JOHNSON, of Indiana, simply wouldn't be good.

SPAIN is likely to find that mines in Klondike pay larger dividends than mines in Havana harbor.

WHETHER the independence of Cuba is recognized now or later makes little difference. It is bound to come.

THE Spanish cortes should at once pass an anti-scalping bill. Five hundred Navajo Indians have volunteered their services to the government of the United States in the event of war with Spain.

GENERAL LEE says the lights did not go out in Havana the night the Maine was blown up. That, however, is not important. The lights of Havana will go out in a few days and the Maine disaster will in large part be the cause of the phenomenon.

NO BETTER place for the beginning of armed intervention can be found than right in the lower house of the congress of the United States.

IF SPAIN wants to know how like thunder Americans can fight, let her look to the house of representatives when steam is up and everything is well oiled and running.

THE only palliating feature of yesterday's fight in congress was the fact that it was waged on both sides in a good cause. It was only a difference as to the best way in which to do a good thing.

THE United States is something of a coaling station itself. Last year there was more coal dug within our boundaries than ever before. Nearly 200,000,000 tons of bituminous coal and more than 50,000,000 of anthracite were the nation's product.

BY all means let Fitzhugh Lee go back to Havana when the time comes. Give him a "half-and-half" division of "Yanks" and "Johnnies"—bluff New Englanders, sturdy prairie men, grizzled mountaineers and impetuous boys from Dixie land—and he will go back to the Cuban city with all the ardor of a nature that was fashioned for courage and daring.

IT WAS a happy thought which inspired Secretary Long to rename the Morgan line steamers El Norte, El Sud, El Rio and El Sol, which had been purchased for auxiliary cruisers, the Yankee, Dixie, Prairie and Yosemite. The names chosen are typical of the four principal sections of the country. These four ships should always be found fighting together. That's what the four sections will do when the emergency comes.

"SPAIN must go" is the sentiment about which the feeling of the people of America has crystallized. Men of all parties and peace men and war men are agreed upon that proposition. At a peace mass meeting held in Boston a few nights ago Hon. Charles Francis Adams quoted with approval a saying once made to him by a British diplomat that there were two things that for the world's good should be ended—Turkish rule in Europe and Spanish rule in America. Cancers are only laboriously removed and with the shedding of blood, but better conditions follow the cutting.

BY agreeing to an amendment to the naval appropriation bill directing the building of the three harbor defense vessels of a strictly monitor type, the senate naval affairs committee reaffirms its faith in the class of fighting machine which was the product of Ericsson's genius, backed by Trojan capital. There are a great many experts who still believe that the development of the monitor into the modern battleship has not been in the direction of improvement. But to argue about this question now is to waste time. It may be that before long the nation will have practical tests upon which to base a final decision.

THE total public debt of Spain, expressed in terms of the currency of this country, is $1,709,000,000. On this enormous principal there is an annual interest charge of $105,000,000. The public debt of Spain, therefore, averages nearly $100 per capita. The public debt of the United States averages but $15 per capita. Spain is bankrupt, her revenues are mortgaged and her resources sapped to almost the point of exhaustion. Cuba, which she is doomed to lose within a few weeks, is pledged for $400,000,000 in bonds. The United States can spend a billion for war and feel the burden less than Spain feels the burden of meeting her annual interest charges.

THE house of representatives has adopted a resolution declaring in effect that Spain must quit Cuba. It demands that the war in the island be stopped and empowers the president to employ the land and naval forces of the United States to intervene with force to put the purpose of the resolution into effect. The senate will doubtless concur in this resolution. There is to be armed intervention and that means war with Spain. What the outcome of conflict with Spain will be causes no apprehension to the people of this country. Defeat—utter, overwhelming and humiliating disaster to the foul Spanish cause—will be the issue of battle. But Spain driven from Cuba, and so far as Spain is concerned, peace restored in the island, what next? There will be no recognized government to give a pledge to the nations and assume responsibility for good order in Cuba. A government will have to be formed and the United States will have to participate in the work of constructing it. The insurgent party, which has fought three years and won with its arms the boon of the island's independence, will insist upon taking charge of the establishment of government. Indeed, as the insurgent party already has established a government, more or less distinct, will that party not demand that their government be permitted to extend and enforce its authority over the whole island? Will the insurgent party not hold that immediately upon the evacuation of Cuba by Spain there is recognition of its government? As the active war party that has fought Spain to a standstill, the insurgents have some rights that will be hard to ignore. Armed intervention by the United States means a series of serious problems for this government to solve. We drive Spain out of Cuba and we take the responsibility of giving Cuba a government.

UNDER WHITE FLAG.

Fighting Goes on in the Island of Cuba.

Several Skirmishes Officially Reported in Santa Clara and Santiago De Cuba Despite Armistice—Havana Press.

HAVANA, April 14.—8 a. m.—In spite of the Spanish decree suspending hostilities in Cuba, it is officially set forth today that "several skirmishes of no importance" have taken place in the provinces of Santa Clara and Santiago de Cuba.

The Diaro de La Marino today, commenting upon President McKinley's message, says: "It can be termed a pill which McKinley has given the Yankees to swallow, sweetened by intervention powders. The general topics touched upon are nothing less than entirely inert matter."

Referring to the reconcentrados, the Diaro De La Marino remarks: "They do not need Uncle Sam's help any more, Spain having devoted three million pesatas to their assistance. Besides this, the Spaniards of Mexico have given one million dollars for the same purpose. McKinley should know that General Blanco has revoked the reconcentrado orders, and that all the reconcentrados are going to work in the country and are joining their families. Then, why this charity display? Is it not to make fools of us? Humanitarianism does not set well on a people accustomed to read 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' without shedding tears for the negro slaves."

The Diaro De La Marino also says it does not believe there is any truth in the "extracts from the message wired by Senor Angule, the agent of the automatic government at Washington, quoting President McKinley as saying he considered annexation would be a great crime."

The Union Constitucional, touching on the same subject, says: "Do not trouble yourself about sending any more desicated beans."

Referring to the departure of General Fitzhugh Lee from Havana, the Union Constitucional expresses the opinion that he "will not return, because a man of character, when he determines upon anything, lives up to it."

QUIET IN HAVANA.

HAVANA, April 14, 8 a. m.—All is as quiet as usual here today and business is being transacted in all circles. Hot, summer weather prevails, with the sky blue and a light breeze blowing. People are discussing the suspension of hostilities and President McKinley's message to congress.

BELDEN IS HERE.

Cleveland Outfielder Arrived in the City at Noon.

The Pittsburg League Team Was in Fort Wayne Today—New Coats for the Fort Waynes—Notes.

Ira Belden, the Cleveland outfielder who will play on the Fort Wayne team this season, arrived in the city at 11:15 o'clock today and this afternoon is at Lakeside park practicing with the balance of the team. Belden presents the appearance of a high-class ball player. A Cleveland correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer says Belden is the fastest player who has been in the Inter-State since Harry Blake went back to the Forest City. If Clark fails to arrive Manager O'Meara has his eye on a fast outfielder in Chicago, who will be signed.

TWO RELEASED.

Manager O'Meara last evening commenced to cut down his trial men by notifying Teal and Tate that he would not need them this season. Both are good players, but not quite up to the standard of the other players now in practice. Tate had not signed a contract.

PITTSBURGS IN TOWN.

The Pittsburg league team was in the city today en route to St. Louis from Toledo over the Wabash railway. John Ganzell was with them and greeted Bobby Dickson, who, of course, was on hand. John says he is certain to play the initial bag for the Pirates.

NEW COATS.

The measures of sixteen men were taken today for handsome new coats which are to be worn by the members of the team this season. Campbell, Cook and Kihm are the largest men on the team, except, of course, Ed. Herr. Each man will carry a suit bag and a bat bag this season and as they walk onto the several ball fields of the league they will present a far different appearance than many clubs.

TORREYSON TALKS SENSE.

Frank Torreyson, the Grand Rapids manager, has his ideas of how players should be treated when release. "If I had my way," said he, "it would never be announced when any man was dismissed from the team. I would much prefer that in event the public missed him it should be briefly stated that he had just gone home on a vacation or that he had secured a better place with another club. Nothing disrupts a team of ball players so much as flaunting in their faces all the time the fact that so and so has been released. And no release can be satifactory to the entire public. Every man on the team has friends. As soon as a particular player is dropped his friends immediately espouse his cause. If a manager is lucky enough to keep them in ignorance of his action he is the gainer. He perhaps retains the friends' good will and he at least deserves the blessing of the released player, who is saved from discouragement and notoriety through failure to come up to the required standard."

FLICK IS DEVELOPING.

Elmer Flick, who was a member of the Dayton team in 1897, is making a great hit in practice with the Phillies. With Monte Cross he is leading the team in batting, with a per centage of .500, having fourteen hits in twenty-eight times at bat. He leads the team in long hits with three doubles, two tripples and four home runs. Thus far he has played without an error. The other day Flick took part in a double play that has not been seen in Philadelphia for years. He played center field, and threw from the field to Stallings, who played first base.

ANSON GIVES UP.

After two months of fruitless efforts to raise enough money to purchase the Chicago base ball club, Anson has at last given up the attempt, and, in all probabilities, the team will remain under the present management until the expiration of the National league's lease of life, four years hence.

Anson lays the blame of the failure to two causes: The opposition of the management and the war scare. When seen at his home last night he had this to say: "I have given up the idea of securing the Chicago base ball club, for the present at least. The war with Spain, coupled with the opposition of the present management, has worked against me. The war scare in itself would have been bad enough, but even at that I might have won out if the management had not opposed me. Two months ago they gave me the option on the team, but they did it under protest and put barriers in my way of securing money every chance they had. In the evening I would see some capitalist and he would agree to furnish me with the necessary money. In the morning the same man would be entirely changed. The only way I can account for this change would be the fact that he had been tampered with by the people who did not want to see me own the club. The two months I had was more than sufficient under ordinary circumstances. After I had become thoroughly convinced the present management did not want to see me in possession I gave up the idea. I do not know just what I will do or what business I will enter into in the future."

NOTES.

Negotiations are in progress in Youngstown and will probably be concluded today by which a syndicate, composed of enterprising men there, will own the franchise and paraphernalia of the Youngstown Inter-State league club. The proposition provides for the carrying out of all existing contracts.

EAGER FOR WAR.

People Greet Soldiers With Enthusiasm.

Journey of Colored Troops to Chickamauga Park Rouses the Latent War Spirit.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 14.—If any doubt existed regarding the patriotism and war-like feeling of the residents of Illinois, Indiana and Tennessee, along the line of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad, it would have been swept away by the reception given the Twenty-fifth infantry as it passed along. In every town, on every street crossing and on the depot platforms men waved their arms in frantic token of approval, and in most instances seconded their gestures by yells. In the larger towns where the train stopped for a few moments the crowd got so closely in upon the cars that it was impossible for the soldiers to leave the train at all.

"I was among those who answered the first call in 1861," said the commanding officer, Colonel Andrew Burt, today, "and these scenes along the way are very similar to those that greeted us as we went to the front thirty-seven years ago."

At one small station where the train stopped for water the colonel was standing upon the steps of the car watching the crowd and as the soldiers and people yelled their mutual approval the colonel said to the men on the platform:

"Are you going to follow us, boys, if war comes?"

"We are coming right after you," shouted several and Colonel Burt climbed back into the train with the remark: "I guess those fellows are all right."

The men of the Twenty-fifth are full of fight and it was shown in good style last night as the train left Terre Haute. A young fellow on the platform shouted in joke "Hurrah for Spain," and instantly there was a break by several soldiers to reach him. They were held back by the non-commissioned officers, who explained that it was meant as a joke.

"That don't matter" was the reply. "They don't nobody tell us to hurrah for Spain."

The regiment stopped about thirty minutes today at Nashville and then started for Chatanooga, where it is expected to arrive at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Eight companies will be camped there in Chickamauga park and two companies with orders from the war department will continue on their way to Key West.

Death's Betrothal.

A few years ago a New York newspaper conducted an open discussion upon the topic: "Is Marriage a Failure?" The answer is easy and upon the surface. Where there is mutual love and respect, if there is also health, marriage is a success. When health is left out, even the most ardent love does not count, and marriage is invariably a failure.

Modern science has cried the warning so often that all should realize the dangers of wedlock to people in ill-health. In a case of this kind death lurks on every side—in the kiss of betrothal and the caress of the honeymoon. The man who is suffering from ill-health is a physical bankrupt, and has no right to condemn a woman to be his nurse for life and the mother of babes that inherit his physical weakness. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts directly on the digestive organism. It makes it strong and its action sure. When a man's digestion is all right his blood will be pure; when his blood is pure his nervous system will be strong and his health vigorous.

A woman who suffers from weakness and disease of the delicate organism of her sex is certain to suffer from general ill-health, and to be an unhappy, helpless invalid and a disappointment as a wife. Her children will be weak, puny and peevish. A happy home is an impossibility for her until her health is restored. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures all troubles of the distinctly feminine organism. It cures them speedily, completely and permanently. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Both medicines are sold by all good dealers.

SHOP AND RAIL.

Cannons and Rifles Pass Through the City.

An Interesting Experiment With Acetylene Gas as an Illuminant--Gossip.

For the past three or four nights No. 54, on the Nickel Plate, has in part been made up of cars loaded with rifles, cannons and accoutrements of war, en route from the west to the Atlantic seaboard points where they will be needed if hostilities with Spain should occur. Last night this train had two box cars loaded with rifles, billed to Norfork, Va. They were to be turned over to the Baltimore and Ohio road at Fostoria.

This plant will be in operation again tonight.

YOUNG PATRIOTS

Have Organized a Military Company in the West End.

The Lads of Fort Wayne Will Fight for the Red, White and Blue With Wooden Guns.

The blood of the true American courses through the veins of the boys in the west end of the city.

Some time ago a party of twenty-five lads, ranging in years from ten to sixteen, organized a company and elected Ed. Lukens captain. They left an order for twenty-five wooden guns at Diether's, and these instruments of supposed destruction were duly made and delivered. The company commenced to grow and a second order for twenty-five of these guns was made. The boys have learned many of the maneuves and headquarters have been secured in a carpenter shop near their homes. They are all patriots and who can tell but that they may all become soldiers on the battlefield should the expected war with Spain continue through many years.

Union Workmen.

We have a shop full of them and are paying union rate of wages; no boys at $4.50 to $6.00 per week; that is why our bicycle repair work is always satisfactory. You may think our prices high but they are as low as we can afford to do first-class work.

Andy Yates and Kid Cramer sparred for points. Cramer was declared out in two minutes. The wrestling match in which Henry West was to throw Herbert Yale twice in one hour was the principal event. Hale was down in eight minutes. Hale is considered the champion of Indiana. Hale's friends are trying to arrange another contest with West. This would decide the state championship."

A GRAND SURPRISE

To Hundreds Who Are Testing "Hyomei."

One Week's Trial of the New Antiseptic Affords Them

Greater Relief Than Months of Treatment by the Old Method.

Physicians Find That the Disease Germs of Catarrh,

Bronchitis and Asthma are Killed at Once by the New Germicide

Which is Carried to All Parts of the Head, Throat and Lungs by the Air You Breathe.

The testimony of over thirty-six hundred regular physicians, who, over their own signatures, have declared "Hyomei" to be the most successful remedy ever used by them in the treatment of diseases of the head, throat and lungs, is the strongest endorsement ever given to any preparation, and the only one of the kind in the history of medicine.

Just think of it, after having tested every treatment known, liquids, sprays, douches and atomizers, and cast them aside as useless, these representative medical men claim the Australian dry air method of treating catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, coughs, colds, asthma and hay fever to be the only one by which all parts of the air passages can be reached and cured. This decision means a great deal to the thousands of people suffering from these diseases. It means that they need no longer waste their time and money on methods which have proved worthless. It means that they need not endanger their hearing or lose their sense of smell and taste by forcing liquid medicines into the air passages with sprays, douches and atomizers.

It means many other things favorable to the health and happiness of the people of this country, but, best of all, it means freedom from suffering to those who are afflicted with diseases of the air passages in the head, throat and lungs, and have found no relief from any of the old methods of treatment.

"HYOMEI" CURES BY INHALATION.

It is nature's own remedy, taken with the air you breathe, it reaches all the parts affected, killing the germs of disease at once, and bringing such relief to the sufferer as can be obtained in no other way.

There is no danger, no risk. Your money is refunded if it fails to relieve.

FIRST INDIANA.

Officers Who Will Command the Regiment.

Colonel McKee, Lieutenant Colonel Gunder, Surgeon Siver and Chaplain Carstensen.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 14.—The officers of the First Indiana regiment to take the field in a war with Spain, according to the present plans of the governor, and providing none of the gentlemen named below decline service, will be as follows:

Colonel—William J. McKee, of Indianapolis.

Lieutenant Colonel—George W. Gunder, of Marion.

Majors—George H. Pennington, of New Albany; Harry B. Smith, of Indianapolis; George M. Studebaker, of South Bend.

Surgeon—E. L. Siver, of Fort Wayne.

Chaplain—Rev. G. A. Carstensen, of Indianapolis.

Mr. Gunder is at present colonel of the Fourth regiment, Mr. Pennington of the First and Mr. Studebaker of the Third. Rev. Carstensen is prepared to go to the front at once; and, in fact, bid his congregation, that of St. Paul's church, a tentative farewell the Sunday before Easter.

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

Governor Mount is going to take advantage of the opportunity afforded by the trip of General McKee to Washington to represent the Indiana National Guard at the conference of the chief officers of various state military organizations, to be held in the rooms of the house committee on military affairs, and make through the Indiana representative some suggestions anent a reorganization of the Nation Guard throughout the country.

"I am in favor," said the governor, "of the government making more liberal provisions for the Nation Guard in a financial way."

Among the suggestions made by the governor was one to the effect that the government should provide barracks for the state militia in the cities or towns where the companies are stationed. He also favors a readjustment of the rules governing the national guard, making them more stringent than they are now. All this, he thinks, would tend to place the national guard of the country nearly on an equal footing with the regular army maintained by the government.

A letter was received by Governor Mount yesterday from John Jacob Astor, president of the Findlay, Fort and Western railway company, offering the free use of the line for the transportation of troops and supplies or for any other public services that may be required. The road extends from Findlay, Ohio, to Fort Wayne, Ind., and is sixty-two miles in length. The governor replied, acknowledging the receipt of the offer and thanking Mr. Astor for his generosity.

FAIR WILL BE A GO.

Citizens Display Interest in the Projected Carnival.

P. A. Randall Selected President of the Organization Which Will Have Charge of the Affair.

Fort Wayne is now almost certain to have a street fair the coming fall, especially if the interest displayed by citizens last evening is any criterion to judge by. It rained, was chilly and disagreeable, but this did not prevent a hundred or more of the city's most enterprising business men from attending the mass meeting at the city hall to agitate a street fair. Messrs. E. C. Rurode, Louis Fox and Ben Lehman had worked indefatigably for the success of the meeting and they were well repaid for the attendance. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Rurode, who stated its purpose and paying a high compliment to P. A. Randall, who so successfully managed the Fort Wayne centennial celebration, suggested that he be chosen chairman of the evening. This recommendation was unanimously accepted by the citizens present and A. H. Dougall was as unanimously selected secretary. A motion that the chairman appoint a committee on permanent organization was carried and Mr. Randall appointed as that committee Messrs. Louis Fox, E. C. Rurode and Ben Lehman.

While this committee was selecting a permanent committee, Mr. Benson, a gentleman who has had wide experience in affairs of this character, talked to the people and explained that work would be necessary to make it a success. In almost every instance he knew that thousands of people had been brought to the cities enterprising enough to give the shows and merchants were well repaid for the outlay necessary to bring the people into the towns. The streets and sidewalks are given up to the exhibits and in the evening there is always some carnival of fun. He stated the cost of these exhibitions in other cities and believed that Fort Wayne could have a carnival at very small cost and the revenues would be enormous. Mr. Benson suggested a program as follows:

First Night—Crowning the queen of the carnival. Ball, grand march led by royal couple.

Second Night—Carnival parade. Queen of the carnival drives the monster Care, through the streets and out of the city.

Third Night—Parade of the queen and royal house, followed by floats of peace, plenty, pleasure, etc.

Fourth Night—Grand mardi gras parade. Everybody on the streets en masque, and mirth fast, furious, and unbounded. Flowers, music, calcium lights, fire works—a reign of pleasure, full, free and untrammeled.

Shows, entertainments, exhibitions, and every mode of pleasure imaginable will occupy the interim.

When Mr. Benson had completed his talk the committee on permanent organization reported as follows and the recommendations were unanimously approved:

President—P. A. Randall.
Secretary—Alan H. Dougall.
Treasurer—John Mohr, jr.

Executive Committee—W. F. Graeter, F. V. Culbertson, L. A. Worch, R. G. Thompson, S. F. Bowser, F. L. Taft, E. G. White, Ben Lehman, Louis Fox, Fred Peters, H. J. Miller, E. C. Rurode, W. E. Mossman, Henry Beadell, D. N. Foster, A. F. Glutting, J. B. Reuss, A. K. Hurst, Clem App, Theodore Frank, C. R. Higgins, A. Mergentheim, R. B. Hanna, G. R. Hench, C. E. Reese, Sam Wolf, L. F. Curdes, A. L. Friend, F. M. Smith, C. C. Schlatter, R. W. T. DeWald and Fred Sihler.

Mr. Randall accepted the presidency, stating that he fully realized the hard work ahead of him, but believed that with the earnest support of Fort Wayne citizens his labors could be somewhat lightened and the carnival made a complete success. He suggested that the ladies be asked to participate in the arrangements as no persons had worked harder than they did for the success of the centennial. More than $10,000 had been raised for the centennial and he believed an equal sum could be raised for the street fair.

The above committee will probably be enlarged on the suggestion of Col. C. B. Oakley, who was mayor during the centennial, and bo made permanent.

Among others who spoke were A. S. Lauferty, H. C. Rockhill, Col. C. B. Oakley, R. B. Hanna, F. V. Culbertson, Ben Lehman, C. F. Muhler, Louis Heilbronner, J. B. Reuss and Walter Hartman, who was secretary of the Auburn Street Fair association.

The executive committee will hold a meeting next Tuesday evening, at the Randall hotel parlors.

LUTHERAN SYNOD.

Four Hundred Delegates in Attendance.

One of the Important Offices Falls to C. A. Kampe, of Fort Wayne.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 14.—Over four hundred delegates were present yesterday at the opening session of the meeting of the middle district of the Evangelical Lutheran Missouri synod at the St. Paul's German Evangelical Lutheran church, corner of McCarty and South New Jersey streets. They represented the three states of the district, Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky. The conference will be in session for six days, ending next Tuesday evening. This meeting promises to eclipse any previous meeting ever held by the district.

Rev. Joseph A. Bohn, of Fort Wayne, secretary of the funds for pastors, teachers, widows and orphans, reported disbursements during the year of $1,658.58 and a balance in the treasury of $102. The money required to carry on this work for the next year was estimated at $2,250. There are 140 regularly ordained pastors and eighty parochial schools in the district.

The officers of the synod are as follows:

President—J. Nieman, Cleveland.
Secretary—J. Biedemann.
Treasurer—C. A. Kampe, Fort Wayne.

The three educational institutions belonging to the synod are well represented. They are the Concordia colleges of Fort Wayne and Milwaukee and the Lutheran theological seminary of St. Louis. Before being admitted to preach a candidate must first take a six years' course at one of the colleges and complete it with a three years' course at the seminary.

PLAN OF CAMPAIGN.

United States Ready to Begin Hostilities.

Land and Naval Forces Will Make Simultaneous Attacks on Havana--Will Unite With Gomez.

NEW YORK, April 14.—A special to the Times from Washington says:

The plans for the joint land and naval attack on Havana have been practically decided on. They have been the subject of deliberation of a number of meetings of the naval strategic board, of councils of the joint war and navy board and of conferences between the governmental and military officials. From the first it was considered absolutely essential that there should be a joint movement of the land and naval forces of the United States against the Spaniards in Cuba, and the only thing left for discussion was the best course to be pursued in carrying out this plan. One difficulty that has continually presented itself is the fact that the navy is ready for an advance on Havana within an hour after the declaration of war, while the army could not possibly throw any considerable force in Cuba in less than forty-eight hours. Should the fleet of Captain Sampson wait until the army was ready? has been asked. Or should it, as soon as war was determined on, proceed to carry out its instructions and invest Havana from the sea?

It is now decided that the fleet will at once move on Havana, invest it and at the same time hold open the Florida straits for the free transportation of troops into the island. A part of the fleet will be employed for this purpose, as well as to keep open the gulf to the west of Havana for a like purpose.

As soon as the army is ready, which will be within forty-eight hours, a considerable body of troops would be thrown into the province of Pinar Del Rio in the neighborhood, probably, of Bahia Honda and an advance upon Havana will be begun at once. The fleet will co-operate with the land forces from the moment they land in Cuba and both will attack Havana simultaneously.

Even if the resolution finally passed by congress does not recognize the present republican government in the island, the plan of the army is to unite with the armies of Gomez and Garcia as allies against the Spaniards. It is probable that troops will be sent to join these revolutionary armies in Puerto Principe or Santa Clara, or that ships will be sent to transport some of the Cuban troops to the vicinity of the capital. In any event, an effort will be made to cooperate at once with the armies of the revolutionary leaders in the work of driving the Spaniards out of the island. With the establishment of a stable and independent government in free Cuba, the army will have nothing to do at least in the preliminary part of the campaign.

Its task is to sweep the Spaniards out of the island. To do this most effectively it will at once seek the closest alliance with the revolutionary troops.

As soon as war is declared the war department will issue, upon the call of the president, orders for the enlistment of at least 150,000 troops. At first there was some talk of 10,000 volunteers, being sufficient for the purpose, but it was soon found that this number would not be sufficient to keep up the garrisons along the coast, together with a body of troops sufficiently large to defend the country from invasion.

It would not be at all adequate to the task of supplying reinforcements for the army of occupation or of forming a nucleus of a still larger army for any operations on a larger scale than is now contemplated. Certainly not less than 50,000 troops will be called for at once and 150,000 will be assuredly organized within a short time after the opening of hostilities. Orders for the organization of a great volunteer force are now prepared and can be issued instantly upon a declaration of war.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement, that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well; now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at Dreier & Bro.'s drug store. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters;' and, to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts per bot. at Dreier & Bros. drug store.

DEBATING FOR WAR.

Senators Discuss the Grave Question.

Turner Makes a Strong Plea for Action.

Hoar, for Peace, Defends the President.

There is Great Desire to Talk and a Vote Will Not be Taken Until Friday--In Congress.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The senate will not reach a vote on the Cuban resolutions, presented Wednesday by the committee on foreign affairs, until Friday. Today the session was devoted to discussion of the resolutions and there are yet many senators who desire to be heard.

THE DAY'S SESSION.

Senate Begins a Long Discussion of the Cuban Resolutions.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The action of the house of representatives yesterday adopting its declaration upon the Hispano-American situation, made the senate today the storm center of the war elements. The galleries were packed and thousands were turned away.

Mr. Hale, of Maine, presented a memorial from the National Civil club, of Brooklyn, calling attention to the necessity, in the event of war with Spain, of repealing some of the present navigation laws. The laws, as they are at present, it said, would prevent our merchant vessels from sailing under a foreign flag, while every Spanish merchantman would be under the French flag.

Our ships would, therefore, be preyed upon by Spanish privateers.

Mr. Hale said the question raised was a most serious one. He thought it would be mortifying and humiliating to this country for its vessels engaged in commerce to fly the flag of any other country than our own. He asked that the memorial be referred to the committee on commerce, which, he hoped, would give it thoughtful consideration.

"REMEMBER THE MAINE."

Mr. Penrose, of Pennsylvania, presented a telegram from Philadelphia, which was read as follows: "House resolution dish water. Davis resolution satisfactory. Remember the Maine."

A message was received from the house transmitting to the senate the Cuban resolution passed by the house.

By unanimous consent at the request of Mr. Davis, chairman of the foreign relations committee, the resolution yesterday reported by the foreign relations committee was laid before the senate.

Mr. Turner began a speech in which he sharply criticized the administration for "its vacillating and irresolute, cowardly and pusillanimous policy."

Pursued by it in the Cuban question, he said that the developments of the past few weeks had shaken his faith in those who had the president's ear and confidence.

Mr. Turner declared himself strongly in favor of the resolution presented by the minority of the committee on foreign relations and for so doing said he needed no further justification than the magnificent state paper which accompanied the majority report. He declared, however, that the same malevolent influences which had paralyzed the executive and almost caused the people to revolt were still at work. If these influences should succeed the whole country would know the disgraceful story and the nation would be shamed.

Mr. Turner maintained that congress could not delegate to the president the power to make war. "The congress of the United States is the organized conscience of the country," said he, "and it is the only power which can take the dread step of war."

After vehemently attacking the president for the delays which had occurred in the sending of his message to congress, he charged that the delay last week was not due to the request of General Lee, but to the fact that Archbishop Ireland had cabled to the vatican in the hope that the holy father might be able to bring about a peaceful solution of the difficulty. The president was waiting upon the pope's action taken to secure that which American diplomacy had failed to obtain.

Mr. Turner ridiculed the diplomatic negotiations of the administration and demanded to know whether congress wanted more of it. He declared the state department, even with the support of justice, was weak and unavailing. At the Spanish end of our diplomatic line we had as minister a man whose desire for peace was so strong that he refused to obey the plain instructions of his superiors. Mr. Turner declared with bitter sarcasm that with such diplomatic agents representing the United States the Madrid government might, eventually, for a suitable indemnity, absolve this country for blocking the harbor of Havana with the shattered hull of the Maine.

The flashing sword of the United States must be drawn for Cuban independence and it would be wielded by an arm stronger than ever. Once uplifted it should never be lowered until Spain was driven from the western hemisphere. He read several telegrams from prominent citizens of Washington in order to indicate the drift of sentiment in that state. One from the governor declared that intervention without recognition of independence would be utterly unsatisfactory. Another from the colonel of the first regiment, Uniformed Rank, Knights of Pythias, which had tendered to the president their services in case of war, directed him to withdraw the offer, as it had been made under the impression that they would be called upon to fight Spaniards, not Cubans.

HOAR DEFENDS THE PRESIDENT.

Mr. Hoar followed Mr. Turner. He thought the present was no time for impassioned rhetoric and manifestations of approval of war sentiment. He did not feel disposed to sneer at expressions of emotion over the outrages of the Cuban war, for they indicated true natures. They called for his profoundest respect. As for himself, he felt like entering upon the Cuban question with the seriousness with which he would attend church. If we were going to take action in Cuba's behalf, it should be done as an act of justice and not of revenge. He did not accept the doctrine in this connection of an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.

Mr. Hoar deprecated the exhibitions of feeling toward the president, who was, he said, in diplomacy the representative of the people and what the president does we, as a people, do. As for himself he not only approved what the president had done but what he had refrained from doing.

Mr. Hoar said that in case of war we could count upon many disasters like that of the Maine and a great increase of the public debt. He said that Senator Turner, who represents only half a state, was making the president, who represents forty-five states, the subject of the same kind of objurgations that were inflicted upon Washington. He predicted that McKinley's fame would not suffer.

Mr. Hoar said it would be well for the impetuous people of this day to remember Abraham Lincoln's counsels in the early stages of the civil war and not to forget Bull Run.

Mr. Hoar did not agree with Senator Foraker that belligerency should have been recognized. This recognition would not have done the insurgents any good and it would have given the Spaniards authority to search our ships.

Mr. Hoar spoke of the sympathy of England at the present crisis, saying that it might be needed before long and that it was not wise to reject. This sympathy had, he said, been won for us by the bearing of the president. He said he also concurred in the views of the president regarding the recognition of the present Cuban government. To recognize them now would be to disown our country's history.

Mr. Hoar said if we departed from the rules of international law we cannot blame the nations of the world for sympathizing with Spain. As to recognizing the insurgents, Mr. Hoar asked how we could recognize a community as the government of the island which had only one-third of the population.

Other senators insisted that the Cubans who sympathized with the insurgents made up a population of nearly 70 per cent. of the population.

Mr. Hoar took issue with Senators Foraker and Lindsay that the United States would be responsible for the Spanish debt in case of intervention. While he admired the course of the insurgents in many things it must not be forgotten that they had begun their system of destruction before the reconcentrado orders were issued.

Mr. Hoar expressed the opinion that the one course open to the United States in the present emergency was intervention. Mr. Hoar said he would accept the house resolution and indicated that he preferred them to the senate resolutions. He thought the outrage on the Maine was an instance of proof of Spain's incapacity to rule in Cuba and he declared the incident would have its own consideration. He believed the explosion a meditated act, of which Spanish officials were guilty.

Mr. Hoar believed the Spanish government responsible and that it should be held responsible. Yet to acquit Blanco as Gen. Lee had done would be to acquit Spain of direct agency, as he was the responsible representative of Spain. If necessary, Mr. Hoar thought the Maine affair such as to justify war. Still, he thought honorable reparation might possibly be secured without war.

Mr. Hoar spoke of the inadequacy of our navy as a good explanation of the delay of this country, and said it had been the cause of much humiliation to us. He said he would vote for the house resolution and he thought its enactment would lead to war. He thought it would be an honorable and justifiable war.

He wanted a united country behind any war movement of the president and congress and of all parties and with the sanction of the civilized world.

Mr. Hoar was applauded when he closed.

SENATOR TURPIE'S ATTITUDE.

Mr. Turpie, Indiana, followed Mr. Hoar in a speech for the recognition of the Cuban republic.

Mr. Turpie thought the existence of the Cuban republic was the first fact to be recognized. This was especially due from the United States.

Mr. Turpie thought the people of Cuba had earned nationality. If recognized as a nation it would rest with them to do as they might please with the Cuban debt.

Cuba would not in case of her independence be in any wise bound to pay the debt of the mother country and she could only be so bound by her own consent.

There had been a question raised as to what Cuba would pay and that Gomez had said that no responsibility would be assumed.

Mr. Turpie contended that but for the Spanish war debt the recognition of belligerency would have been granted before this time. He refuted the assertion that the Cuban government was insolvent and declared it was practically without debt.

Mr. Turpie thought at the same time the divine right of kings to reign in this continent was extinguished, the right of the bondholders should be similarly treated. Cuba should not be responsible for any part of the Spanish debt.

Mr. Turpie construed the president's reference to international obligations as employing a possibility that the Spanish debts were to be cared for by any government that might be set up in Cuba. This possibility should be avoided by recognizing the present government.

Senator Pettigrew offered a substitute for the preceding resolutions declaring that war exists and authorizing the president to use the land and naval forces to prosecute it.

SENATOR GRAY IS LOFTY.

Mr. Gray followed Mr. Turpie, saying that he would not consider such inconceivably low considerations as to who should pay the Spanish bonds. He was born without suspicion but he would confess to great concern for the honor and glory of his country.

TROOPS ARRIVE.

Twenty-Fifth Infantry Reaches Chattanooga Today.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 14.—The first section of the special train bearing the Twenty-fifth infantry, is due to arrive in Chattanooga at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. The Southern railway has a special train in waiting for the two companies scheduled to go through to Key West and the Chattanooga Rome and Southern is prepared to take the others to the park without delay. The camp will be located a quarter of a mile from the park headquarters on Lytle field.

MILITARY PREPARATIONS MADE.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—General Miles said today that up to this time no further movements of troops other than those announced some time ago had been ordered, nor had any call for volunteers been issued.

The war department officials have completed preparations for any movement of troops towards a common centre and for calling out the militia whenever such a step is regarded as necessary. If the intervention resolution should be enacted by both houses immediately the orders to move the troops probably would be promptly issued.

A mantle clock in black and gilt is the proper thing. We have them. Dallas F. Green.

LINES TIGHTEN.

No News Respecting Naval Movements Will Be Given Out.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Gradually the lines are tightened around the news centres of the naval department. Some time ago Captain Crowninshield, chief of the bureau of navigation, issued an order forbidding any of the employes of his bureau giving out news except on permission from him. This did not interfere with the posting of the movements of ships in the navigation bureau which has been done for a long time past.

THAT SPANISH MINE.

General Lee Gives Striking Testimony.

Infernal Machine Handled by Experts.

Spanish Officers Doubtless the Miscreants.

Mass of Important Information Given by General Lee to the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The testimony taken before the senate committee on foreign relations in connection with the investigation into the relations between the United States and Cuba was made public today. It constitutes a book of about 650 pages, and includes not only the testimony taken since the disaster to the Maine, but also much that was taken before, and running back for a year or more.

The statement which contains the greatest current interest is that made by Consul General Lee on the 12th instant. In this statement, General Lee said that he was informed on very good authority that the Spaniards had placed two rows of torpedos just at the mouth of the Havana harbor by Morro castle within the past two months, or subsequent to the Maine disaster, and that the switchboard is in a room in the castle.

He said, however, that he had no information of the placing of any torpedoes before the Maine was destroyed, and none in regard to the purchase abroad by the Spanish authorities.

"Have you any reason to suppose that the harbor was mined at all before the blowing up of the Maine?" asked Senator Frye.

DID NOT SUSPECT MINES.

"No, sir; I had no reason to suspect anything of that sort up to that time." He then went on to say that General Weyler's letter to Santos Guzman had led him to believe that mines might have been placed there previous to the Maine incident, and he said that this supposition was strengthened by a telegram from General Weyler, of which he had cognizance.

Upon the whole he thought the Weyler letter (the Lame letter) was a correct copy of a genuine letter. The telegram to which he referred was addressed to Eva Canal, a noted Spanish woman and an admirer of Weyler, and to Senor Guzman, and it read as follows:

"Grave circumstances cause me to ask you to destroy the last letter of February 18th."

General Lee said that this telegram had never before been published and he found in it strong confirmatory evidence of the genuineness of the Weyler letter.

EXPLOSION WAS EXTERNAL.

With reference to the responsibility for the destruction of the Maine General Lee said:

"I am satisfied the explosion was from the outside. I cabled the state department a few days after the board assembled that it was almost certain that the explosion was from the exterior.

"I have always had an idea about the Maine that, of course, it was not blown up by any private individual or by any private citizen, but it was blown up by some of the officers who had charge of the mines and electrical wires and torpedoes in the arsenal there who thoroughly understood their business, for it was done remarkably well.

EXONERATES GENERAL BLANCO.

"I do not think General Blanco, the present captain and governor general of the island of Cuba, had anything to do with it. I do not think he had any knowledge of it. I saw him just shortly after the occurrence. I was sitting in my room at the hotel when I heard the explosion and saw a great column of fire go up into the air. A few moments after ascertaining that it was the Maine I went right down to the palace and asked for General Blanco. He came in directly by himself. He had just heard it and was crying; tears were coming out of his eyes. He seemed to regret it as much as anybody I saw in Havana: but I think it came from some of the subaltern officers who had been there under Weyler, and who were probably anti-Blanco anyhow, and who had full knowledge of the business."

A SUSPICIOUS TELEGRAM.

General Lee said that he had seen a copy of a telegram from Admiral Manterolla, dated in Havana, prior to the explosion to the Maine to the Spanish commission in London, asking the commission to "hurry up the electric cables."

"Whether that referred to wire for submarine mines or torpedoes I do not know," he continued. "I tried to ascertain if any of the wire or electrical cables had arrived there, but they came on Spanish ships and I could not find out."

General Lee said that this testimony in regard to Manterolla and also that with reference to the Weyler telegram, had been furnished to the court of inquiry which investigated the Maine disaster, but had not been sent to congress nor published because of a request of his made to the state department not to make them public, "as I was afraid the Spanish papers there would republish it and they would probably kill the man that gave it to me."

Continuing his testimony, General Lee said that ten minutes after the explosion he was at the palace talking to General Blanco and that the latter gave him an order for a boat to take him out into the harbor. Senator Morgan asked if, when the got to the water's edge, he saw any lights burning.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS DID NOT GO OUT.

"I did not notice that," said General Lee, "but I have made inquiries since and have ascertained that no electric lights went out. I sent for electric light men and gas men. Some gas jets went out in one or two places, caused by the shock or something, but I could not ascertain from these men that a single electric light went out. One of the electric light men whom I called up is a friend of mine, and he sent for the man who has direct charge of the lights who came to my office. This man said he had not heard of any such thing. I said I wanted to know with certainty.

"The man then made a new exploration of an hour or two and returned, saying that with the exception of one electric light near the harbor and one at another place, not very far distant, where he thought perhaps the lights might have gone out by the shock, no other electric lights went out."

General Lee also said that he had not felt the shock of the explosion at his hotel.

"Have you heard since the explosion of the Maine any expression by Spanish officers in relation to it, indicating their pleasure at the fact?" asked Senator Frye.

SPANISH SOLDIERS MADE MERRY.

General Lee responded:

"I heard two or three days afterwards from various persons who came in that there was a good deal of rejoicing among some of the officers. All reports I got said they were drinking champaign, quite a thing to do, in honor of the event, and in different portions of the city officers were making merry. I attribute it to the fact that what they considered almost an enemy's battleship had been blown up, and it was that much in their favor." He said that he had not heard any threats of or allusions to the destruction of the Maine previous to the explosion. Senator Lodge asked if he had heard of an attempt on the Montgomery.

"I heard," responded General Lee, "that there was something of that sort one evening, but I believe upon investigation it was found that it did not amount to anything."

The following colloquy between Senator Foraker and General Lee brought out some further opinions of the general in regard to the destruction of the Maine:

Senator Foraker—You think that no novice could have destroyed the Maine?

Consul General Lee—Oh, no, sir. The man who did that work was an officer thoroughly acquainted with explosives of all sorts, and who knew all about it. It was very well done.

THE WORK OF AN EXPERT.

Senator Foraker—A man who had expert knowledge, necessarily?

Consul General Lee—Yes, sir.

Senator Clark—And who must have had knowledge of the location of the torpedo?

Consul General Lee—Yes. I never have been certain that the submarine explosive was placed there prior to the entrance of the Maine into the harbor. It might have been done afterwards. The Maine was anchored to a buoy by some little chain. A vessel swinging around that way sometimes gets at various places all around the circle. When she would swing off that way, with the bow next to the buoy and these boats plying about the harbor all the time, anybody could go pretty well in front of her on a dark night and drop one of these submarine mines of 500 pounds. They have fingers, as it were, and as the boat goes around it would touch the finger, which makes contact and explodes the mine. That might have been done after the Maine got in there and not be discovered. One or two men rowing quietly in a boat could drop it off the stern of the boat on a dark night, though Sigsbee had his patrols out. A boat would not have been noticed, because boats go there always to a late hour of the night. The harbor is full of these little boats. A mine weighs about 500 pounds and I suppose it would take two or three men—one man to row and probably three or four to handle the mine."

Senator Lodge asked: "What does this cessation of hostilities spoken of in the last few days amount to?" to which General Lee responded, "Nothing: practically nothing—the armistice amounts to nothing."

SPAIN IN AN UPROAR

Policy of the Ministry Breeds Wrath.

Madrid Journals Say Spain Is Betrayed.

Discontent Crystallizes About Weyler.

Military Journals Irate With Anger and Call Upon the Butcher to Redeem the Honor of Spain.

The following cablegram is delayed several days, owing to the rigid censorship exercised by the government in Madrid. It confirms the meagre statements cabled early in the week that the situation in Spain is much more serious than the news that passed the censorship indicated.—Ed.

MADRID, April 10, via Bayonne, France, April 14—5 a. m.—The feature of the opposition press is the endeavor to bring General Weyler to the front and make him the champion of the revolution, under the guise of a savior of the national honor. The general today undoubtedly has numerous followers, and even the newspapers which, ever since his return from Cuba, have violently denounced him, are now lauding the former captain general of Cuba as the one man who can save the situation.

The Pais, under large headlines reading "Great treason—Spain is sold," says:

"It is in the atmosphere one breathes. It is on our lips, is sticking in our throats and palpitating in our hearts. When ready to fight, we have been vilely sold. Yesterday we were men, today we are women. But the country will avenge the treason."

Then the Pais turns to General Weyler, after having been unfriendly to him for a long time, and exclaims:

"General Weyler is not alone in appreciating the present dishonor. He is backed by numerous republicans, patriotic Carlists, the Robledo conservatives, which party is composed of many senators and deputies and the representatives of provinces; all the loyal Spaniards in Cuba with the volunteers, the leaders of the army who blush under the stigma of the army, and he will have the support of the masses, who are only waiting for a guide and leader. General Weyler is not alone. No general and no political personage has more followers today than he has. May General Weyler not disappoint the hopes of so many patriots."

The military press is divided in opinion on the subject, the Correo Militar admitting, however, that the decision of the movement to suspend hostilities has had "a lamentable effect upon the army."

The Correo Espanal publishes a slashing article against the government, asking the ministers derisively where they will go "after making every possible concession and yielding even the honor of Spain to McKinley."

This causes the Correspenal to say that it thanks the ministry "with a contemptuous kick," adding: "Our pen falls from our hand as we contemplate the cowardice on one side and the villainy on the other. It is impossible to write of it seriously. We must be governed by the hermaphrodites of fathers and must hide the tear which runs down the cheek, while the lips curl in supreme sarcasm. We laugh while our teeth clinch, the bile turns in our stomach, anger heats our blood and our hands instinctively seek an avenging weapon."

The feeling in Madrid tonight is stronger than ever. All parties are uniting against the government and there are sinister references to the "Austrian," which mean that the queen regent, who has never been popular in Madrid, is rapidly falling into increased disfavor. The feeling against her majesty is exasperated by the quotations from the English and French papers of the suggestions of Emperor Francis Joseph respecting Cuba.

The following quotation from the Pais has much between the lines:

"Carlist circles are boiling at the arrest of Baron San Guerren. Government circles maintain their outward composure, but the measures taken for the preservation of order reveal anxiety."

The Heraldo and Correo continue their attacks upon the government, and the impression which generally prevails is that if an external war is avoided an internal conflict is certain. This day's issue of the Pais was confiscated and copies of the papers were only obtainable surreptitiously.

It headed its leading article "Austrian Gifts," and said:

"Easter has brought Spain resurrection. The passion is only beginning in the garden of olives. The crucifixion, however, is near. Judas having given the traitor's kiss."

RIOTING IN VALENCIA.

Big Revolutionary Demonstration in the Spanish City.

LONDON, April 14.—According to a special dispatch this afternoon from Madrid, there was a big revolutionary demonstration at Valencia, capital of the Spanish province of that name, yesterday evening. Large crowds assembled, a red flag was displayed and waved and the "Marsellaise" was sung. The police, it is added, dispersed the people who took part in the demonstration and captured the red flag.

WILLING TO FIGHT.

Spanish Cabinet Minister Says Spain is Ready to Take Consequences.

LONDON, April 14.—According to a special dispatch from Madrid today a Spanish cabinet has declared in an interview that should President McKinley notify Spain to evacuate Cuba, this government will immediately and emphatically refuse and will add it is fully prepared to take the consequences.

"The government," continued the cabinet minister, "does not regret according the armistice, as it has thereby improved its position from an international point of view, and has made it more difficult for the United States to intervene without putting itself completely in the wrong."

WILL NOT ARBITRATE.

Swiss Bundesrath Votes Down Proposal to Mediate in Spanish Imbroglio.

BERNE, Switzerland, April 14.—The suggestion made yesterday by the national council that the bundesrath consider whether it could not offer to mediate between the United States and Spain was brought before the bundesrath today and was unanimously rejected.

WEYLER SUMMONED.

Government Calls Him Hastily to Madrid.

The Late Commander in Cuba Believes War With the United States to be Inevitable.

MADRID, April 14.—General Weyler, the former captain general of Cuba arrived in Madrid today, apparently being called here by the government.

He was met at the railroad station by General Pratt, in full uniform and many friends, military men and civilians.

The governor of Madrid prohibited the demonstrations which it was proposed to make, and adopted precautionary measures.

There was a detachment of police at the station, there were policemen in the streets, through which the general passed, and police officers were stationed even within the entrance to the general's residence.

From the railroad station the former captain-general was driven rapidly to his home in a carriage, accompanied by Senor Mesamena, a member of the chamber of deputies.

When questioned on the subject, General Weyler refused to say he was called to Madrid by the government, but he added, speaking to the correspondent of the Associated Press:

"I have indeed offered my services to the queen. I consider war with America inevitable, or Cuba is lost to Spain. I believe war is preferable to a continuation of the prolonged tension between Washington and Madrid."

CABINET COUNCIL HELD.

CORTES TO CONVENE AT ONCE.

MADRID, April 14.—3 p. m.—A cabinet council has decided to reopen the Spanish parliament on Wednesday next, instead of April 25.

CAMPOS EXPECTS WAR.

MADRID, April 14.—9 a. m.—Marshal Martinos De Campos, the former captain general of Cuba, is quoted in an interview in the Liberal as having declined to express an opinion on the situation, owing to the fact that it might interfere with the course of events. He added that "intervention" and "requiring complete freedom" were compromising statements on one side or the other. The general, however, ventured to describe the situation as being most grave.

FLEET STILL AT VERDE ISLANDS.

ST. VINCENT, Cape Verde Island, April 14.—The Spanish armored cruisers Cristobal Colon and Maria Teresa have arrived here. The Spanish torpedo flotilla is still in these waters.

WAR IS CERTAIN.

MADRID, April 14.—9 a. m.—The newspapers here regard war inevitable. The last dispatches from Washington have created profound excitement throughout Spain. The Spaniards protest against the "odious imputation" that Spanish officers were responsible for the loss of the maine. It is asserted here that proof can be furnished to show that no torpedoes have been laid in Havana harbor. The Official Gazette tomorrow will publish a decree organizing a national subscription to increase the strength of the Spanish fleet.

HOUSE WILL SWITCH.

Senate Resolution Will Pass That Body.

Republicans Already Organizing the Movement.

Fear a Delay Will Follow a Conference.

It is Believed That the Senate Resolutions Will Prevail in the House by an Overwhelming Majority.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Some of the house republicans are already organizing a movement looking to the acceptance of the senate resolutions when they pass that body. They fear that if the resolutions go to a conference concessions may be made and delay may follow.

The senate resolutions being the more vigorous please many of the radicals better than the house resolutions. Mr. Bromwell, of Ohio, and other republicans of the house after visiting their colleagues at the other end of the capitol today came back jubilant over the prospect that the senate would be held in continuous session until the vote was taken.

They have been conferring with their colleagues and the democrats and Mr. Bromwell says he believes a motion to accept the senate resolutions will prevail in the house by an overwhelming majority.

WILL PREVENT OBSTRUCTION.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The senators who are anxious for early action on the Cuban resolutions have determined to hold continuous sessions if there is any disposition to delay action by debate.

The more radical senators say there are votes enough to adopt the Turpie amendment recognizing the present Cuban government. Those who think this is possible seem to think the house and senate will then compromise on substantially the majority resolutions of the senate committee.

POLO READY TO LEAVE.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Spanish Minister Polo has made final preparations for departure immediately after Madrid instructs him to leave. The French embassador will care for Spain's interests.

NEW STEAMER PURCHASED.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The navy department today purchased the Red D line steamer Venezuela. The terms were not made public. Negotiations for the Paris and New York, the American Steamship company's big trans-Atlantic liners, it is stated, are still in progress, the question now being one of terms merely.

ORDER FOR WAR MULES.

MR. JOHNSON, of Indiana, simply wouldn't be good.

SPAIN is likely to find that mines in Klondike pay larger dividends than mines in Havana harbor.

WHETHER the independence of Cuba is recognized now or later makes little difference. It is bound to come.

THE Spanish cortes should at once pass an anti-scalping bill. Five hundred Navajo Indians have volunteered their services to the government of the United States in the event of war with Spain.

GENERAL LEE says the lights did not go out in Havana the night the Maine was blown up. That, however, is not important. The lights of Havana will go out in a few days and the Maine disaster will in large part be the cause of the phenomenon.

NO BETTER place for the beginning of armed intervention can be found than right in the lower house of the congress of the United States.

IF SPAIN wants to know how like thunder Americans can fight, let her look to the house of representatives when steam is up and everything is well oiled and running.

THE only palliating feature of yesterday's fight in congress was the fact that it was waged on both sides in a good cause. It was only a difference as to the best way in which to do a good thing.

THE United States is something of a coaling station itself. Last year there was more coal dug within our boundaries than ever before. Nearly 200,000,000 tons of bituminous coal and more than 50,000,000 of anthracite were the nation's product.

BY all means let Fitzhugh Lee go back to Havana when the time comes. Give him a "half-and-half" division of "Yanks" and "Johnnies"—bluff New Englanders, sturdy prairie men, grizzled mountaineers and impetuous boys from Dixie land—and he will go back to the Cuban city with all the ardor of a nature that was fashioned for courage and daring.

IT WAS a happy thought which inspired Secretary Long to rename the Morgan line steamers El Norte, El Sud, El Rio and El Sol, which had been purchased for auxiliary cruisers, the Yankee, Dixie, Prairie and Yosemite. The names chosen are typical of the four principal sections of the country. These four ships should always be found fighting together. That's what the four sections will do when the emergency comes.

"SPAIN must go" is the sentiment about which the feeling of the people of America has crystallized. Men of all parties and peace men and war men are agreed upon that proposition. At a peace mass meeting held in Boston a few nights ago Hon. Charles Francis Adams quoted with approval a saying once made to him by a British diplomat that there were two things that for the world's good should be ended—Turkish rule in Europe and Spanish rule in America. Cancers are only laboriously removed and with the shedding of blood, but better conditions follow the cutting.

BY agreeing to an amendment to the naval appropriation bill directing the building of the three harbor defense vessels of a strictly monitor type, the senate naval affairs committee reaffirms its faith in the class of fighting machine which was the product of Ericsson's genius, backed by Trojan capital. There are a great many experts who still believe that the development of the monitor into the modern battleship has not been in the direction of improvement. But to argue about this question now is to waste time. It may be that before long the nation will have practical tests upon which to base a final decision.

THE total public debt of Spain, expressed in terms of the currency of this country, is $1,709,000,000. On this enormous principal there is an annual interest charge of $105,000,000. The public debt of Spain, therefore, averages nearly $100 per capita. The public debt of the United States averages but $15 per capita. Spain is bankrupt, her revenues are mortgaged and her resources sapped to almost the point of exhaustion. Cuba, which she is doomed to lose within a few weeks, is pledged for $400,000,000 in bonds. The United States can spend a billion for war and feel the burden less than Spain feels the burden of meeting her annual interest charges.

THE house of representatives has adopted a resolution declaring in effect that Spain must quit Cuba. It demands that the war in the island be stopped and empowers the president to employ the land and naval forces of the United States to intervene with force to put the purpose of the resolution into effect. The senate will doubtless concur in this resolution. There is to be armed intervention and that means war with Spain. What the outcome of conflict with Spain will be causes no apprehension to the people of this country. Defeat—utter, overwhelming and humiliating disaster to the foul Spanish cause—will be the issue of battle. But Spain driven from Cuba, and so far as Spain is concerned, peace restored in the island, what next? There will be no recognized government to give a pledge to the nations and assume responsibility for good order in Cuba. A government will have to be formed and the United States will have to participate in the work of constructing it. The insurgent party, which has fought three years and won with its arms the boon of the island's independence, will insist upon taking charge of the establishment of government. Indeed, as the insurgent party already has established a government, more or less distinct, will that party not demand that their government be permitted to extend and enforce its authority over the whole island? Will the insurgent party not hold that immediately upon the evacuation of Cuba by Spain there is recognition of its government? As the active war party that has fought Spain to a standstill, the insurgents have some rights that will be hard to ignore. Armed intervention by the United States means a series of serious problems for this government to solve. We drive Spain out of Cuba and we take the responsibility of giving Cuba a government.

UNDER WHITE FLAG.

Fighting Goes on in the Island of Cuba.

Several Skirmishes Officially Reported in Santa Clara and Santiago De Cuba Despite Armistice—Havana Press.

HAVANA, April 14.—8 a. m.—In spite of the Spanish decree suspending hostilities in Cuba, it is officially set forth today that "several skirmishes of no importance" have taken place in the provinces of Santa Clara and Santiago de Cuba.

The Diaro de La Marino today, commenting upon President McKinley's message, says: "It can be termed a pill which McKinley has given the Yankees to swallow, sweetened by intervention powders. The general topics touched upon are nothing less than entirely inert matter."

Referring to the reconcentrados, the Diario De La Marino remarks: "They do not need Uncle Sam's help any more, Spain having devoted three million pesatas to their assistance. Besides this, the Spaniards of Mexico have given one million dollars for the same purpose. McKinley should know that General Blanco has revoked the reconcentrado orders, and that all the reconcentrados are going to work in the country and are joining their families. Then, why this charity display? Is it not to make fools of us? Humanitarianism does not set well on a people accustomed to read 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' without shedding tears for the negro slaves."

The Diaro De La Marino also says it does not believe there is any truth in the "extracts from the message wired by Senor Angulo, the agent of the automatic government at Washington, quoting President McKinley as saying he considered annexation would be a great crime."

The Union Constitucional, touching on the same subject, says:

"Do not trouble yourself about sending any more desicated beans."

Referring to the departure of General Fitzhugh Lee from Havana, the Union Constitucional expresses the opinion that he "will not return, because a man of character, when he determines upon anything, lives up to it."

QUIET IN HAVANA.

HAVANA, April 14, 8 a. m.—All is as quiet as usual here today and business is being transacted in all circles. Hot, summer weather prevails, with the sky blue and a light breeze blowing. People are discussing the suspension of hostilities and President McKinley's message to congress.

BELDEN IS HERE.

Cleveland Outfielder Arrived in the City at Noon.

The Pittsburg League Team Was in Fort Wayne Today—New Coats for the Fort Wayne—Notes.

Ira Belden, the Cleveland outfielder who will play on the Fort Wayne team this season, arrived in the city at 11:15 o'clock today and this afternoon is at Lakeside park practicing with the balance of the team. Belden presents the appearance of a high-class ball player. A Cleveland correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer says Belden is the fastest player who has been in the Inter-State since Harry Blake went back to the Forest City. If Clark fails to arrive Manager O'Meara has his eye on a fast outfielder in Chicago, who will be signed.

TWO RELEASED.

Manager O'Meara last evening commenced to cut down his trial men by notifying Teal and Tate that he would not need them this season. Both are good players, but not quite up to the standard of the other players now in practice. Tate had not signed a contract.

PITTSBURGS IN TOWN.

The Pittsburg league team was in the city today en route to St. Louis from Toledo over the Wabash railway. John Ganzell was with them and greeted Bobby Dickson, who, of course, was on hand. John says he is certain to play the initial bag for the Pirates.

NEW COATS.

The measures of sixteen men were taken today for handsome new coats which are to be worn by the members of the team this season. Campbell, Cook and Kihm are the largest men on the team, except, of course, Ed. Herr. Each man will carry a suit bag and a bat bag this season and as they walk onto the several ball fields of the league they will present a far different appearance than many clubs.

TORREYSON TALKS SENSE.

Frank Torreyson, the Grand Rapids manager, has his ideas of how players should be treated when release. "If I had my way," said he, "it would never be announced when any man was dismissed from the team. I would much prefer that in event the public missed him it should be briefly stated that he had just gone home on a vacation or that he had secured a better place with another club. Nothing disrupts a team of ball players so much as flaunting in their faces all the time the fact that so and so has been released. And no release can be satifactory to the entire public. Every man on the team has friends. As soon as a particular player is dropped his friends immediately espouse his cause. If a manager is lucky enough to keep them in ignorance of his action he is the gainer. He perhaps retains the friends' good will and he at least deserves the blessing of the released player, who is saved from discouragement and notoriety through failure to come up to the required standard."

FLICK IS DEVELOPING.

Elmer Flick, who was a member of the Dayton team in 1897, is making a great bit in practice with the Phillies. With Monte Cross he is leading the team in batting, with a per centage of .500, having fourteen hits in twenty-eight times at bat. He leads the team in long hits with three doubles, two tripples and four home runs. Thus far he has played without an error. The other day Flick took part in a double play that has not been seen in Philadelphia for years. He played center field, and threw from the field to Stallings, who played first base.

ANSON GIVES UP.

After two months of fruitless efforts to raise enough money to purchase the Chicago base ball club, Anson has at last given up the attempt, and, in all probabilities, the team will remain under the present management until the expiration of the National league's lease of life, four years hence.

Anson lays the blame of the failure to two causes: The opposition of the management and the war scare. When seen at his home last night he had this to say: "I have given up the idea of securing the Chicago base ball club, for the present at least. The war with Spain, coupled with the opposition of the present management, has worked against me. The war scare in itself would have been bad enough, but even at that I might have won out if the management had not opposed me. Two months ago they gave me the option on the team, but they did it under protest and put barriers in my way of securing money every chance they had. In the evening I would see some capitalist and he would agree to furnish me with the necessary money. In the morning the same man would be entirely changed. The only way I can account for this change would be the fact that he had been tampered with by the people who did not want to see me own the club. The two months I had was more than sufficient under ordinary circumstances. After I had become thoroughly convinced the present management did not want to see me in possession I gave up the idea. I do not know just what I will do or what business I will enter into in the future."

NOTES.

Negotiations are in progress in Youngstown and will probably be concluded today by which a syndicate, composed of enterprising men there, will own the franchise and paraphernalia of the Youngstown Inter-State league club. The proposition provides for the carrying out of all existing contracts.

EAGER FOR WAR.

People Greet Soldiers With Enthusiasm.

Journey of Colored Troops to Chickamauga Park Rouses the Latent War Spirit.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 14.—If any doubt existed regarding the patriotism and war-like feeling of the residents of Illinois, Indiana and Tennessee, along the line of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad, it would have been swept away by the reception given the Twenty-fifth infantry as it passed along. In every town, on every street crossing and on the depot platforms men waved their arms in frantic token of approval, and in most instances seconded their gestures by yells. In the larger towns where the train stopped for a few moments the crowd got so closely in upon the cars that it was impossible for the soldiers to leave the train at all.

"I was among those who answered the first call in 1861," said the commanding officer, Colonel Andrew Burt, today, "and these scenes along the way are very similar to those that greeted us as we went to the front thirty-seven years ago."

At one small station where the train stopped for water the colonel was standing upon the steps of the car watching the crowd and as the soldiers and people yelled their mutual approval the colonel said to the men on the platform:

"Are you going to follow us, boys, if war comes?"

"We are coming right after you," shouted several and Colonel Burt climbed back into the train with the remark: "I guess those fellows are all right."

The men of the Twenty-fifth are full of fight and it was shown in good style last night as the train left Terre Haute. A young fellow on the platform shouted in joke "Hurrah for Spain," and instantly there was a break by several soldiers to reach him. They were held back by the non-commissioned officers, who explained that it was meant as a joke.

"That don't matter" was the reply. "They don't nobody tell us to hurrah for Spain."

The regiment stopped about thirty minutes today at Nashville and then started for Chatanooga, where it is expected to arrive at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Eight companies will be camped there in Chickamauga park and two companies with orders from the war department will continue on their way to Key West.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

Death's Betrothal.

A few years ago a New York newspaper conducted an open discussion upon the topic "Is Marriage a Failure?" The answer is easy and upon the surface. Where there is mutual love and respect, if there is also health marriage is a success. When health is left out even the most ardent love does not count, and marriage is invariably a failure.

Modern science has cried the warning so often that all should realize the dangers of wedlock to people in ill-health. In case of this kind death lurks on every side—in the kiss of betrothal and the caress of the honeymoon. The man who is suffering from ill health is a physical bankrupt and has no right to condemn a woman to be his nurse for life and the mother of babes that inherit his physical weakness. Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts directly on the digestive organism. It makes it strong and its action perfect. When a man's digestion is all right his blood will be pure, when his blood is pure his nervous system will be strong and his health vigorous.

A woman who suffers from weakness and disease of the delicate organism of her sex is certain to suffer from general ill-health and to be an unhappy, helpless invalid and a disappointment as a wife. Her children will be weak puny and peevish. A happy home is an impossibility for her until her health is restored. Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures all troubles of the distinctly feminine organism. It cures them speedily, completely and permanently. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Both medicines are sold by all good dealers.

SHOP AND RAIL.

Cannons and Rifles Pass Through the City.

An Interesting Experiment With Acetylene Gas as an Illuminant—Gossip.

For the past three or four nights No. 54, on the Nickel Plate, has in part been made up of cars loaded with rifles, cannons and accoutrements of war, en route from the west to the Atlantic seaboard points where they will be needed if hostilities with Spain should occur. Last night this train had two box cars loaded with rifles, billed to Norfork, Va. They were to be turned over to the Baltimore and Ohio road at Fostoria.

PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE.

Indiana has 5,187 miles of railroad main line, Spain 7,617 miles.

Nickel Plate Engineer J. A. Swartz is looking after private business at Continental, Ohio.

Mrs. Frank Frary, wife of the Wabash machinist, has gone to Toledo to visit friends a few days.

The Wabash lines earned in the first week of April $236,009, an increase over the corresponding week of $43,615.

George Daugherty, an employe at the Nickel Plate round house, has been visiting friends in Bellevue for a few days.

Nickel Plate Conductor Kitselman has recovered from his recent illness and is working again after a week's absence.

L. T. Canfield, master car builder of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, has resigned and is succeeded by J. Van Doll, promoted.

George Gould has perfected arrangements for building an extension of the Missouri Pacific from McCracken, Kan., to Denver, 165 miles.

Thomas Pfeiffer, who had been visiting friends in the vicinity of Hobart, Ind., resumed his duties in the Nickel Plate round house yesterday.

Daniel Petgen resumed charge of the Pittsburg copper and tin shop this morning. For several days he was in Altoona, Pa., on business for the company.

Harry Drew, one of the projectors of the Chicago, Indiana and Eastern, says the track layers will be at work by May 1 laying track between Fairmount and Converse.

Walter Stanley, caller of Nickel Plate train crews, was hunting ducks at Knox yesterday. Charles Haenel, son of the engineer, worked for Mr. Stanley during the day.

The Missouri Car and Foundry company, of St. Louis, has secured the contract to build 1,500 box and 500 stock cars for the Union Pacific road, deliveries to commence May 1.

Engineer S. Hooper and Fireman F. Roembke, of the Nickel Plate, are again on their old engine, No. 86, which has just been turned out of the Stony Island shops, thoroughly repaired.

The stockholders of the Kansas City, Excelsior Springs and Northern road, the connecting link between the Wabash and the Milwaukee roads, have elected Henry Garland, of the Wabash, president.

It is stated that S. R. Calloway, who is to be the head of the Vanderbilt lines, favors the policy of making faster time between New York and Chicago, and advocates running fast limited trains in both directions in eighteen hours, six hours quicker than the present schedule.

The Erie Railway company has planned to make extensive improvements at Huntington, Ind., this season. One will be the erection of a new freight house, 500 feet long by fifty feet wide, and additional sidetracks will be laid. The transfer house at the crossing of the Wabash road will be abandoned.

The Pullman company will have on exhibition at the Omaha exposition the same train which it exhibited at the Chicago, the Atlanta and Nashville expositions. Col. C. O. Chesnault, who has been with the Pullman company as a conductor twenty eight years, will have charge of the train while at Omaha. It is made up of the cars Isabella, Marchena, Furthenan and Americus.

The Bass Foundry and Machine works yesterday shipped two large steel tanks to the Cleveland Cliffs Mining company, at Gladstone, Mich.

C. Starkey, a cab builder at the Pittsburg shops, is off duty on account of sickness. J. Clark, of the shipping department, is off duty to look after some private business.

M. P. Gaskill, a painter in the Pittsburg shops, got some paint scales in his eyes while cleaning a tank prior to repainting. Dr. K. K. Wheelock removed the stuff from the optics.

A large motor left the electric works this morning for Medina, N. Y. The corporation also sent another motor out to the Bowser Oil Tank works, making ten now in that institution.

John Hendler, the inventor, made an interesting exhibition of acetylene gas lights at the Gruber grocery, on Wilt street, last evening, which was witnessed by a number of people. He had rigged up ten lights, which were supplied with gas from a common generator and with this plant he was enabled to illuminate the building so brilliantly as to make the most remote corner as light as day. This plant will be in operation again tonight.

YOUNG PATRIOTS

Have Organized a Military Company in the West End.

The Lads of Fort Wayne Will Fight for the Red, White and Blue With Wooden Guns.

The blood of the true American courses through the veins of the boys in the west end of the city.

Some time ago a party of twenty five lads, ranging in years from ten to sixteen, organized a company and elected Ed Lukens captain. They left an order for twenty five wooden guns at Diether's, and these instruments of supposed destruction were duly made and delivered. The company commenced to grow and a second order for twenty five of these guns was made. The boys have learned many of the maneuves and headquarters have been secured in a carpenter shop near their homes. They are all patriots and who can tell but that they may all become soldiers on the battlefield should the expected war with Spain continue through many years.

Union Workmen.

We have a shop full of them and are paying union rate of wages, no boys at $4 50 to $6 00 per week, that is why our bicycle repair work is always satisfactory. You may think our prices high but they are as low as we can afford to do first class work.

Auburn Courier: "The Athletic carnival held here Tuesday evening was a decided success. Master Burt Berdner, the contortionist, gave an exhibition with the ring. Andy Yates and Kid Cramer sparred for points. Cramer was declared out in two minutes. The wrestling match in which Henry West was to throw Herbert Yale twice in one hour was the principal event. Hale was down in eight minutes. Hale is considered the champion of Indiana. Hale's friends are trying to arrange another contest with West. This would decide the state champion ship."

A GRAND SURPRISE

To Hundreds Who Are Testing "Hyomei."

One Week's Trial of the New Antiseptic Affords Them

Greater Relief Than Months of Treatment by the Old Method.

Physicians Find That the Disease Germs of Catarrh,

Bronchitis and Asthma are Killed at Once by the New Germicide

Which is Carried to All Parts of the Head, Throat and Lungs by the Air You Breathe.

The testimony of over thirty six hundred regular physicians, who, over their own signatures, have declared "Hyomei" to be the most successful remedy ever used by them in the treatment of diseases of the head, throat and lungs, is the strongest endorsement ever given to any preparation, and the only one of the kind in the history of medicine.

Just think of it, after having tested every treatment known, liquids, sprays, douches and atomizers, and cast them aside as useless, these representative medical men claim the Australian dry air method of treating catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, coughs, colds, asthma and hay fever to be the only one by which all parts of the air passages can be reached and cured. This decision means a great deal to the thousands of people suffering from these diseases. It means that they need no longer waste their time and money on methods which have proved worthless. It means that they need not endanger their hearing or lose their sense of smell and taste by forcing liquid medicines into the air passages with sprays, douches and atomizers.

It means many other things favorable to the health and happiness of the people of this country, but, best of all, it means freedom from suffering to those who are afflicted with diseases of the air passages in the head, throat and lungs, and have found no relief from any of the old methods of treatment.

"HYOMEI" CURES BY INHALATION.

It is nature's own remedy, taken with the air you breathe, it reaches all the parts affected, killing the germs of disease at once, and bringing such relief to the sufferer as can be obtained in no other way.

There is no danger, no risk. Your money is refunded if it fails to relieve.

FIRST INDIANA.

Officers Who Will Command the Regiment.

Colonel McKee, Lieutenant Colonel Gunder, Surgeon Siver and Chaplain Carstensen.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 11.—The officers of the First Indiana regiment to take the field in a war with Spain, according to the present plans of the governor, and providing none of the gentlemen named below decline service, will be as follows:

Colonel—William J. McKee, of Indianapolis.

Lieutenant Colonel—George W. Gunder, of Marion.

Majors—George H. Pennington, of New Albany; Harry B. Smith, of Indianapolis; George M. Studebaker, of South Bend.

Surgeon—E. L. Siver, of Fort Wayne.

Chaplain—Rev. G. A. Carstensen, of Indianapolis.

Mr. Gunder is at present colonel of the Fourth regiment, Mr. Pennington of the First and Mr. Studebaker of the Third. Rev. Carstensen is prepared to go to the front at once, and, in fact, bid his congregation, that of St. Paul's church, a tentative farewell the Sunday before Easter.

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

Governor Mount is going to take advantage of the opportunity afforded by the trip of General McKee to Washington to represent the Indiana National Guard at the conference of the chief officers of various state military organizations, to be held in the rooms of the house committee on military affairs, and make through the Indiana representative some suggestions anent a reorganization of the Nation Guard throughout the country.

"I am in favor," said the governor, "of the government making more liberal provisions for the Nation Guard in a financial way."

Among the suggestions made by the governor was one to the effect that the government should provide barracks for the state militia in the cities or towns where the companies are stationed. He also favors a readjustment of the rules governing the national guard making them more stringent than they are now. All this, he thinks, would tend to place the national guard of the country nearly on an equal footing with the regular army maintained by the government.

A letter was received by Governor Mount yesterday from John Jacob Astor, president of the Findlay, Fort and Western railway company, offering the free use of the line for the transportation of troops and supplies or for any other public services that may be required. The road extends from Findlay, Ohio, to Fort Wayne, Ind., and is sixty-two miles in length. The governor replied, acknowledging the receipt of the offer and thanking Mr. Astor for his generosity.

FAIR WILL BE A GO.

Citizens Display Interest in the Projected Carnival.

P. A. Randall Selected President of the Organization Which Will Have Charge of the Affair.

Fort Wayne is now almost certain to have a street fair the coming fall, especially if the interest displayed by citizens last evening is any criterion to judge by. It rained, was chilly and disagreeable, but this did not prevent a hundred or more of the city's most enterprising business men from attending the mass meeting at the city hall to agitate a street fair. Messrs. E. C. Rurode, Louis Fox and Ben Lehman had worked indefatigably for the success of the meeting and they were well repaid for the attendance. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Rurode, who stated its purpose and paying a high compliment to P. A. Randall, who so successfully managed the Fort Wayne centennial celebration, suggested that he be chosen chairman of the evening. This recommendation was unanimously accepted by the citizens present and A. H. Dougall was as unanimously selected secretary. A motion that the chairman appoint a committee on permanent organization was carried and Mr. Randall appointed as that committee Messrs. Louis Fox, E. C. Rurode and Ben Lehman.

While this committee was selecting a permanent committee, Mr. Henson, a gentleman who has had wide experience in affairs of this character, talked to the people and explained that work would be necessary to make it a success. In almost every instance he knew that thousands of people had been brought to the cities enterprising enough to give the shows and merchants were well repaid for the outlay necessary to bring the people into the towns. The streets and sidewalks are given up to the exhibits and in the evening there is always some carnival of fun. He stated the cost of these exhibitions in other cities and believed that Fort Wayne could have a carnival at very small cost and the revenues would be enormous. Mr. Benson suggested a program as follows:

First Night—Crowning the queen of the carnival. Ball, grand march led by royal couple.

Second Night—Carnival parade. Queen of the carnival drives the monster Care, through the streets and out of the city.

Third Night—Parade of the queen and royal house, followed by floats of peace, plenty, pleasure, etc.

Fourth Night—Grand mardi gras parade. Everybody on the streets en masque, and mirth fast, furious and unbounded. Flowers, music, calcium lights, fire works—a reign of pleasure, full, free and untrammeled.

Shows, entertainments, exhibitions, and every mode of pleasure imaginable will occupy the interim.

When Mr. Benson had completed his talk the committee on permanent organization reported as follows and the recommendations were unanimously approved:

President—P. A. Randall.
Secretary—Allan H. Dougall.
Treasurer—John Mohr, jr.
Executive Committee—W. F. Graeter, F. V. Culbertson, L. A. Worch, R. G. Thompson, S. F. Bowser, F. L. Taft, E. G. White, Ben Lehman, Louis Fox, Fred Peters, H. J. Miller, E. C. Rurode, W. E. Mossman, Henry Beadell, D. N. Foster, A. F. Glutting, J. B. Rouss, A. K. Hurst, Clem App, Theodore Frank, C. R. Higgins, A. Morgentheim, R. B. Hanna, G. R. Hench, C. E. Reese, Sam Wolf, L. F. Curdes, A. J. Friend, F. M. Smith, C. C. Schlatter, R. W. T. DeWald and Fred Sihler.

Mr. Randall accepted the presidency, stating that he fully realized the hard work ahead of him, but believed that with the earnest support of Fort Wayne citizens his labors could be somewhat lightened and the carnival made a complete success. He suggested that the ladies be asked to participate in the arrangements as no persons had worked harder than they did for the success of the centennial. More than $10,000 had been raised for the centennial and he believed an equal sum could be raised for the street fair.

The above committee will probably be enlarged on the suggestion of Col. C. B. Oakley, who was mayor during the centennial, and be made permanent.

Among others who spoke were A. S. Lauferty, H. C. Rockhill, Col. C. B. Oakley, R. B. Hanna, F. V. Culbertson, Ben Lehman, C. F. Muhler, Louis Heilbronner, J. B. Rouss and Walter Hartman, who was secretary of the Auburn Street Fair association.

The executive committee will hold a meeting next Tuesday evening, at the Randall hotel parlors.

LUTHERAN SYNOD.

Four Hundred Delegates in Attendance.

One of the Important Offices Falls to C. A. Kampe of Fort Wayne.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 11.—Over four hundred delegates were present yesterday at the opening session of the meeting of the middle district of the Evangelical Lutheran Missouri synod at the St. Paul's German Evangelical Lutheran church, corner of McCarty and South New Jersey streets. They represented the three states of the district, Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky. The conference will be in session for six days, ending next Tuesday evening. This meeting promises to eclipse any previous meeting ever held by the district.

Rev. Joseph A. Bohn, of Fort Wayne, secretary of the funds for pastors, teachers, widows and orphans, reported disbursements during the year of $1 658 58 and a balance in the treasury of $102. The money required to carry on this work for the next year was estimated at $2250. There are 140 regularly ordained pastors and eighty parochial schools in the district.

The officers of the synod are as follows:

President—J. Nieman, Cleveland.
Secretary—C. Biedelmann.
Treasurer—C. A. Kampe, Fort Wayne.

The three educational institutions belonging to the synod are well represented. They are the Concordia colleges of Fort Wayne and Milwaukee and the Luther an theological seminary of St. Louis. Before being admitted to preach a candidate must first take a six years' course at one of the colleges and complete it with a three years' course at the seminary.

PLAN OF CAMPAIGN.

United States Ready to Begin Hostilities.

Land and Naval Forces Will Make Simultaneous Attack on Havana—Will Unite With Gomez.

NEW YORK, April 11.—A special to the Times from Washington says:

The plans for the joint land and naval attack on Havana have been practically decided on. They have been the subject of deliberation of a number of meetings of the naval strategic board of councils of the joint war and navy board and of conferences between the governmental and military officials. From the first it was considered absolutely essential that there should be a joint movement of the land and naval forces of the United States against the Spaniards in Cuba, and the only thing left for discussion was the best course to be pursued in carrying out this plan. One difficulty that has continually presented itself is the fact that the navy is ready for an advance on Havana within an hour after the declaration of war, while the army could not possibly throw any considerable force in Cuba in less than forty eight hours. Should the fleet of Captain Sampson wait until the army was ready? has been asked. Or should it, as soon as war was determined on, proceed to carry out its instructions and invest Havana from the sea?

It is now decided that the fleet will at once move on Havana, invest it and at the same time hold open the Florida straits for the free transportation of troops into the island. A part of the fleet will be employed for this purpose, as well as to keep open the gulf to the west of Havana for a like purpose.

As soon as the army is ready, which will be within forty eight hours, a considerable body of troops would be thrown into the province of Pinar Del Rio in the neighborhood, probably, of Bahia Honda and an advance upon Havana will be begun at once. The fleet will co operate with the land forces from the moment they land in Cuba and both will attack Havana simultaneously.

Even if the resolution finally passed by congress does not recognize the present republican government in the island, the plan of the army is to unite with the armies of Gomez and Garcia as allies against the Spaniards. It is probable that troops will be sent to join these revolutionary armies in Puerto Principe or Santa Clara, or that ships will be sent to transport some of the Cuban troops to the vicinity of the capital. In any event, an effort will be made to cooperate at once with the armies of the revolutionary leaders in the work of driving the Spaniards out of the island. With the establishment of a stable and independent government in free Cuba the army will have nothing to do at least in the preliminary part of the campaign.

Its task is to sweep the Spaniards out of the island. To do this most effectively it will at once seek the closest alliance with the revolutionary troops.

As soon as war is declared the war department will issue, upon the call of the president, orders for the enlistment of at least 150,000 troops. At first there was some talk of 50,000 volunteers being sufficient for the purpose, but it was soon found that this number would not be sufficient to keep up the garrisons along the coast, together with a body of troops sufficiently large to defend the country from invasion.

It would not be at all adequate to the task of supplying reinforcements for the army of occupation or of forming a nucleus of a still larger army for any operations on a larger scale than is now contemplated. Certainly not less than 50,000 troops will be called for at once and 100 000 will be assembled organized within a short time after the opening of hostilities. Orders for the organization of a great volunteer force are now prepared and can be issued instantly upon a declaration of war.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold which settled on her lungs; she was treated a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles found her self sound and well, now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at Dreier & Bro.'s drug store. Large bottles 50 cents and $1 00.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and, to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts. per bot at Dreier & Bros. drug store.

His interests being here, he prefers to keep the position in preference to giving it up and assisting Fort Wayne."

Complaints are becoming more numerous every day of the depredations of alleged fishermen with nets, especially along the St Joe river. One fisherman this morning said to THE SENTINEL that every night there were from ten to fifteen nets stretched across the river almost within the city limits. The legitimate fishermen complain that the deputy fish commissioner or others in authority do not arrest some of the violators and set an example that will compel others to stop seining for fish. Fishing with line and hook is being killed by the fellows with the net.

DEBATING FOR WAR.

Senators Discuss the Grave Question.

Turner Makes a Strong Plea for Action.

Hear, for Peace, Defends the President.

There Is Great Desire to Talk and a Vote Will Not be Taken Until Friday—In Congress.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The senate will not reach a vote on the Cuban resolutions, presented Wednesday by the committee on foreign affairs, until Friday. Today the session was devoted to discussion of the resolutions and there are yet many senators who desire to be heard.

THE DAY'S SESSION.

Senate Begins a Long Discussion of the Cuban Resolutions.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The action of the house of representatives yesterday adopting its declaration upon the Hispano-American situation, made the senate today the storm center of the war elements. The galleries were packed and thousands were turned away.

Mr. Hale, of Maine, presented a memorial from the National Civil club, of Brooklyn, calling attention to the necessity, in the event of war with Spain, of repealing some of the present navigation laws. The laws, as they are at present, it said, would prevent our merchant vessels from sailing under a foreign flag, while every Spanish merchantman would be under the French flag.

Our ships would, therefore, be preyed upon by Spanish privateers.

Mr. Hale said the question raised was a most serious one. He thought it would be mortifying and humiliating to this country for its vessels engaged in commerce to fly the flag of any other country than our own. He asked that the memorial be referred to the committee on commerce, which, he hoped, would give it thoughtful consideration.

"REMEMBER THE MAINE."

Mr. Penrose, of Pennsylvania, presented a telegram from Philadelphia, which was read as follows: "House resolution filth water. Davis resolution satisfactory. Remember the Maine."

A message was received from the house transmitting to the senate the Cuban resolution passed by the house.

By unanimous consent at the request of Mr. Davis, chairman of the foreign relations committee, the resolution yesterday reported by the foreign relations committee was laid before the senate.

Mr. Turner began a speech in which he sharply criticized the administration for "its vacillating and irresolute, cowardly and pusillanimous policy."

Pursued by it in the Cuban question, he said that the developments of the past few weeks had shaken his faith in those who had the president's ear and confidence.

Mr. Turner declared himself strongly in favor of the resolution presented by the minority of the committee on foreign relations and for so doing said he needed no further justification than the magnificent state paper which accompanied the majority report. He declared, however, that the same malevolent influences which had paralyzed the executive and almost caused the people to recoil were still at work. If these influences should succeed the whole country would know the disgraceful story and the nation would be ashamed.

Mr. Turner maintained that congress could not delegate to the president the power to make war. "The congress of the United States is the organized conscience of the country," said he, "and it is the only power which can take the dread step of war."

After vehemently attacking the president for the delays which had occurred in the sending of his message to congress, he charged that the delay last week was not due to the request of General Lee, but to the fact that Archbishop Ireland had cabled to the vatican in the hope that the holy father might be able to bring about a peaceful solution of the difficulty. The president was waiting upon the pope's action taken to secure that which American diplomacy had failed to obtain.

Mr. Turner ridiculed the diplomatic negotiations of the administration and demanded to know whether congress wanted more of it. He declared the state department, even with the support of justice, was weak and unavailing. As the Spanish and of our diplomatic line, we had no minister a man whose desire for peace was so strong that he refused to obey the plain instructions of his superiors. Mr. Turner declared with bitter sarcasm that with such diplomatic agents representing the United States the Madrid government might, eventually, for a suitable indemnity, absolve this country for blocking the harbor of Havana with the sunken hull of the Maine.

The flashing sword of the United States must be drawn for Cuban independence and it would be wielded by an arm stronger than ever. Once uplifted it should never be lowered until Spain was driven from the western hemisphere. He read several telegrams from prominent citizens of Washington in order to indicate the drift of sentiment in that state. One from the governor declared that intervention without recognition of independence would be utterly unsatisfactory. Another from the colonel of the first regiment, Uniformed Rank, Knights of Pythias, which had tendered to the president their services in case of war, directed him to withdraw the offer, as it had been made under the impression that they would be called upon to fight Spaniards, not Cubans.

HOAR DEFENDS THE PRESIDENT.

Mr. Hoar followed Mr. Turner. He thought the present was no time for impassioned rhetoric and manifestations of approval of war sentiment. He did not feel disposed to sneer at expressions of emotion over the outrages of the Cuban war, for they indicated true natures. They called for his profoundest respect. As for himself, he felt like entering upon the Cuban question with the seriousness with which he would attend church. If we were going to take action in Cuba's behalf, it should be done as an act of justice and not of revenge. He did not accept the doctrine in this connection of an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.

Mr. Hoar deprecated the exhibitions of feeling toward the president, who was, he said, in diplomacy the representative of the people and what the president does we, as a people, do. As for himself he not only approved what the president had done but what he had refrained from doing.

Mr. Hoar said that in case of war we could count upon many disasters like that of the Maine and a great increase of the public debt. He said that Senator Turner, who represents only half a state, was making the president, who represents forty-five states, the subject of the same kind of objurgations that were inflicted upon Washington. He predicted that McKinley's fame would not suffer.

Mr. Hoar said it would be well for the impatuous people of this day to remember Abraham Lincoln's counsels in the early stages of the civil war and not to forget Bull Run.

Mr. Hoar did not agree with Senator Foraker that belligerency should have been recognized. This recognition would not have done the insurgents any good and it would have given the Spaniards authority to search our ships.

Mr. Hoar spoke of the sympathy of England at the present crisis, saying that it might be needed before long and that it was not wise to reject. This sympathy had, he said, been won for us by the bearing of the president. He said he hear in a speech for the recognition of the Cuban republic.

Mr. Turpie thought the existence of the Cuban republic was the first fact to be recognized. This was especially due from the United States.

Mr. Turpie thought the people of Cuba had earned nationality. If recognized as a nation it would rest with them to do as they might please with the Cuban debt.

Cuba would not in case of her independence be in any wise bound to pay the debt of the mother country and she could only be so bound by her own consent.

There had been a question raised as to what Cuba would pay and that Congress had said that no responsibility would be assumed.

Mr. Turpie contended that but for the Spanish war debt the recognition of belligerency would have been granted before this time. He refused the assertion that the Cuban government was insolvent and declared it was practically without debt.

Mr. Turpie thought at the same time the divine right of kings to reign in this continent was extinguished, the right of the bondholders should be similarly treated. Cuba should not be responsible for any part of the Spanish debt.

Mr. Turpie construed the president's reference to international obligations as employing a possibility that the Spanish debts were to be cared for by any government that might be set up in Cuba. This possibility should be avoided by recognizing the present government.

Senator Pettigrew offered a substitute for the preceding resolutions declaring that war exists and authorizing the president to use the land and naval forces to prosecute it.

SENATOR GRAY IS LOFTY.

Mr. Gray followed Mr. Turpie, saying that he would not consider such inconceivably low considerations as to who should pay the Spanish bonds. He was born without suspicion but he would confess to great concern for the honor and glory of his country.

TROOPS ARRIVE.

Twenty-Fifth Infantry Reaches Chattanooga Today.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 14.—The first section of the special train bearing the Twenty-fifth infantry, is due to arrive in Chattanooga at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. The Southern railway has a special train in waiting for the two companies scheduled to go through to Key West and the Chattanooga Rome and Southern is prepared to take the others to the park without delay. The camp will be located a quarter of a mile from the park headquarters on Lytle field.

MILITARY PREPARATIONS MADE.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—General Miles said today that up to this time no further movements of troops other than those announced some time ago had been ordered, nor had any call for volunteers been issued.

The war department officials have completed preparations for any movement of troops towards a common centre and for calling out the militia whenever such a step is regarded as necessary. If the intervention resolution should be enacted by both houses immediately the orders to move the troops probably would be promptly issued.

A mantle clock in black and gilt is the proper thing. We have them. Dallas F. Green.

LINES TIGHTEN.
No News Respecting Naval Movements Will Be Given Out.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Gradually the lines are tightened around the news centres of the naval department. Some time ago Captain Crowninshield, chief of the bureau of navigation, issued an order forbidding any of the employes of his bureau giving out news except on permission from him. This did not interfere with the posting of the movements of ships in the navigation bureau which has been done for a long time past.

THAT SPANISH MINE.

General Lee Gives Striking Testimony.

Infernal Machine Handled by Experts.

Spanish Officers Doubtless the Miscreants.

Mass of Important Information Given by General Lee to the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The testimony taken before the senate committee on foreign relations in connection with the investigation into the relations between the United States and Cuba was made public today. It constitutes a book of about 300 pages, and includes not only the testimony taken since the disaster to the Maine, but also much that was taken before, and running back for a year or more.

The statement which contains the greatest current interest is that made by Consul General Lee on the 28th instant. In this statement, General Lee said that he was informed on very good authority that the Spaniards had placed two rows of torpedos just at the mouth of the Havana harbor by Morro castle within the past two months, or subsequent to the Maine disaster, and that the switchboard is in a room in the castle.

He said, however, that he had no information of the placing of any torpedoes before the Maine was destroyed, and none in regard to the purchase abroad by the Spanish authorities.

"Have you any reason to suppose that the harbor was mined at all before the blowing up of the Maine?" asked Senator Frye.

DID NOT SUSPECT MINES.

"No, sir; I had no reason to suspect anything of that sort up to that time." He then went on to say that General Weyler's letter to Senlor Governau had led him to believe that mines might have been placed there previous to the Maine incident, and he said that this supposition was strengthened by a telegram from General Weyler, of which he had cognizance.

Upon the whole he thought the Weyler letter, (the Lame letter) was a correct copy of a genuine letter. The telegram to which he referred was addressed to Eva Canel, a noted Spanish woman and an admirer of Weyler, and to Senor Guzman, and it read as follows:

"Grave circumstances cause me to ask you to destroy the last letter of February 16th."

General Lee said that this telegram had never before been published and he found in it strong confirmatory evidence of the genuineness of the Weyler letter.

EXPLOSION WAS EXTERNAL.

With reference to the responsibility for the destruction of the Maine General Lee said:

"I am satisfied the explosion was from the outside. I called the state department a few days after the board assembled that it was almost certain that the explosion was from the exterior.

"I have always had an idea about the Maine that, of course, it was not blown up by any private individual or by any private citizen, but it was blown up by some of the officers who had charge of the mines and electrical wires and torpedoes in the assault there who thoroughly understood their business, for it was done remarkably well.

EXONERATES GENERAL BLANCO.

"I do not think General Blanco, the present captain and governor general of the island of Cuba, had anything to do with it. I do not think he had any knowledge of it. I saw him just, shortly after the occurrence. I was sitting in my room at the hotel when I heard the explosion and saw a great column of fire go up into the air. A few moments after ascertaining that it was the Maine I went right down to the palace and asked for General Blanco. He came in directly by himself. He had just heard it and was crying; tears were coming out of his eyes. He seemed to regret it as much as anybody I saw in Havana; but I think it came from some of the subaltern officers who had been there under Weyler, and who were probably left Blanco anyhow, and who had full knowledge of the business."

A SUSPICIOUS TELEGRAM.

General Lee said that he had seen a copy of a telegram from Admiral Manterolla, dated in Havana, prior to the explosion to the Maine to the Spanish commission in London, asking the commission to "hurry up the electric cables."

"Whether that referred to wire for submarine mines or torpedoes I do not know," he continued. "I tried to ascertain if any of the wire or electrical cables had arrived there, but they came on Spanish ships and I could not find out."

General Lee said that this testimony in regard to Manterolla and also that with reference to the Weyler telegram, had been furnished to the court of inquiry which investigated the Maine disaster, but had not been sent to congress nor published because of a request of his made to the state department not to make them public, as I was afraid the Spanish papers there would republish it and they would probably kill the man that gave it to me."

Continuing his testimony, General Lee said that ten minutes after the explosion he was at the palace talking to General Blanco and that the latter gave him an order for a boat to take him out into the harbor. Senator Morgan asked if, when the got to the water's edge, he saw any lights burning.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS DID NOT GO OUT.

"I did not notice that," said General Lee, "but I have made inquiries since and have ascertained that no electric lights went out. I sent for electric light men and gas men. Some gas jets went out in one or two places, caused by the shock or something, but I could not ascertain from those men that a single electric light went out. One of the electric light men whom I called up is a friend of mine, and he sent for the man who has direct charge of the lights who came to my office. This man said he had not heard of any such thing. I said I wanted to know with certainty.

"The man then made a new exploration of an hour or two and returned, saying that with the exception of one electric light near the harbor and one at another place, not very far distant, where he thought perhaps the lights might have gone out by the shock, no other electric lights went out."

General Lee also said that he had not felt the shock of the explosion at his hotel.

"Have you heard since the explosion of the Maine any expression by Spanish officers in relation to it, indicating their pleasure at the fact?" asked Senator Frye.

SPANISH SOLDIERS MADE MERRY.

General Lee responded:

"I heard two or three days afterwards from various persons who came in that there was a good deal of rejoicing among some of the officers. All reports I got said they were drinking champagne, quite a thing to do, in honor of the event, and in different portions of the city officers were making merry. I attribute it to the fact that what they considered almost an enemy's battleship had been blown up, and it was that much in their favor." He said that he had not heard any threats of or allusions to the destruction of the Maine previous to the explosion. Senator Lodge asked if he had heard of an attempt on the Montgomery.

"I heard," responded General Lee, "that there was something of that sort one evening, but I believe upon investigation it was found that it did not amount to anything."

The following colloquy between Senator Foraker and General Lee brought out some further opinions of the general in regard to the destruction of the Maine:

Senator Foraker—You think that no advice could have destroyed the Maine?

Consul General Lee—Oh, no, sir. The man who did that work was an officer thoroughly acquainted with explosives of all sorts, and who knew all about it. It was very well done.

THE WORK OF AN EXPERT.

Senator Foraker—A man who had expert knowledge, necessarily?

Consul General Lee—Yes, sir.

Senator Clark—And who must have had knowledge of the location of the torpedo?

Consul General Lee—Yes. I never have been certain that the submarine explosive was placed there prior to the entrance of the Maine into the harbor. It might have been done afterwards. The Maine was anchored to a buoy by some little chain. A vessel swinging around that way sometimes gets at various places all around the circle. When she would swing off that way, with the bow next to the buoy and these boats plying about the harbor all the time, anybody could go pretty well in front of her on a dark night and drop one of these submarine mines of 500 pounds. They have fingers, as it were, and as the boat goes around it would touch the finger, which makes contact and explodes the mine. That might have been done after the Maine got in there and not be discovered. One or two men rowing quietly in a boat could drop it off the stern of the boat on a dark night, though Sigsbee had his patrols out. A boat would not have been noticed, because boats go there always to a late hour of the night. The harbor is full of these little boats. A mine weighs about 500 pounds and I suppose it would take two or three men—one man to row and probably three or four to handle the mine."

Senator Lodge asked: "What does this cessation of hostilities spoken of in the last few days amount to?" to which General Lee responded, "Nothing; practically nothing—the armistice amounts to nothing."

SPAIN IN AN UPROAR

Policy of the Ministry Breeds Wrath.

Madrid Journals Say Spain Is Betrayed.

Discontent Crystallizes About Weyler.

Military Journals Fresh With Anger and Call Upon the Butcher to Redeem the Honor of Spain.

[The following cablegram is delayed several days, owing to the rigid censorship exercised by the government in Madrid. It confirms the meagre statements cabled early in the week that the situation in Spain is much more serious than the news that passed the censorship indicated.—Ed.]

MADRID, April 10, via Bayonne, France, April 14.—8 A. M.—The feature of the opposition press is the endeavor to bring General Weyler to the front and make him the champion of the revolution, under the guise of a savior of the national honor. The general today undoubtedly has numerous followers, and even the newspapers which, ever since his return from Cuba, have violently denounced him, are now lauding the former captain general of Cuba as the one man who can save the situation.

The Pais, under large headlines reading "Great treason—Spain is sold," says:

"It is in the atmosphere one breathes. It is on our lips, is sticking in our throats and palpitating in our hearts. When ready to fight, we have been vilely sold. Yesterday we were men, today we are women. But the country will avenge the treason."

Then the Pais turns to General Weyler, after having been unfriendly to him for a long time, and exclaims:

"General Weyler is not alone in appreciating the present dishonor. He is backed by numerous republicans, patriotic Carlists, the Robledo conservatives, which party is composed of many senators and deputies and the representatives of provinces; all the loyal Spaniards in Cuba with the volunteers, the leaders of the army who blush under the stigma of the army, and he will have the support of the masses, who are only waiting for a guide and leader. General Weyler is not alone. No general and no political personage has more followers today than he has. May General Weyler not disappoint the hopes of so many patriots."

The military press is divided in opinion on the subject, the Correo Militar admitting, however, that the decision of the movement to suspend hostilities has had "a humiliable effect upon the army."

The Correo Espanol publishes a slashing article against the government, asking the ministers decisively where they will go "after making every possible concession and yielding even the honor of Spain to McKinley."

This causes the Correspond to say that it thanks the ministry "with a contemptuous kick," adding: "Our pen falls from our hand as we contemplate the cowardice on one side and the villainy on the other." It is impossible to write of it seriously. We must be governed by the hermaphrodites of fathers and must hide the tear which runs down the cheek, while the lips curl in supreme sarcasm. We laugh while our teeth clinch, the bile turns in our stomach, anger beats our blood and our heads instinctively seek an avenging weapon."

The feeling in Madrid tonight is stronger than ever. All parties are uniting against the government and there are sinister references to the "Austrian," which mean that the queen regent, who has never been popular in Madrid, is rapidly falling into increased disfavor. The feeling against her majesty is exasperated by the quotations from the English and French papers of the suggestions of Emperor Francis Joseph respecting Cuba.

The following quotation from the Pais has mean between the lines:

"Carlist circles are boiling at the arrest of Baron San Guerran. Government circles maintain their outward composure, but the measures taken for the preservation of order reveal anxiety."

The Heraldo and Correo continue their attacks upon the government, and the impression which generally prevails is that if an external war is avoided an internal conflict is certain. This day's issue of the Pais was confiscated and copies of the papers were only obtainable surreptitiously.

It headed its leading article "Austrian Gifts," and said:

"Easter has brought Spain resurrection. The passion is only beginning in the garden of olives. The crucifixion, however, is near. Judas having given the traitor's kiss."

RIOTING IN VALENCIA.

Big Revolutionary Demonstration in the Spanish City.

LONDON, April 14.—According to a special dispatch this afternoon from Madrid, there was a big revolutionary demonstration at Valencia, capital of the Spanish province of that name, yesterday evening. Large crowds assembled, a red flag was displayed and waved and the "Marseillaise" was sung. The police, it is added, dispersed the people who took part in the demonstration and captured the red flag.

WILLING TO FIGHT.

Spanish Cabinet Minister Says Spain Is Ready to Take Consequences.

LONDON, April 14.—According to a special dispatch from Madrid today a Spanish cabinet has declared in an interview that "should President McKinley notify Spain to evacuate Cuba, this government will immediately and emphatically refuse and will add it is fully prepared to take the consequences."

"The government," continued the cabinet minister, "does not regret according the armistice, as it has thereby improved its position from an international point of view, and has made it more difficult for the United States to intervene without putting itself completely in the wrong."

WILL NOT ARBITRATE.

Swiss Bundesrath Votes Down Proposal to Mediate in Spanish Imbroglio.

BERNE, Switzerland, April 14.—The suggestion made yesterday by the national council that the bundesrath consider whether it could not offer to mediate between the United States and Spain was brought before the bundesrath today and was unanimously rejected.

WEYLER SUMMONED.

Government Calls Him Hastily to Madrid.

The Late Commander in Cuba Believes War With the United States to be Inevitable.

MADRID, April 14.—General Weyler, the former captain general of Cuba arrived in Madrid today, apparently being called here by the government.

He was met at the railroad station by General Pratt, in full uniform and many friends, military men and civilians.

The governor of Madrid prohibited the demonstrations which it was proposed to make, and adopted precautionary measures.

There was a detachment of police at the station, there were policemen in the streets, through which the general passed, and police officers were stationed even within the entrance to the general's residence.

From the railroad station the former captain-general was driven rapidly to his home in a carriage, accompanied by Senor Mesamena, a member of the chamber of deputies.

When questioned on the subject, General Weyler refused to say he was called to Madrid by the government, but he added, speaking to the correspondent of the Associated Press:

"I have indeed offered my services to the queen. I consider war with America inevitable, or Cuba is lost to Spain. I believe war is preferable to a continuation of the prolonged tension between Washington and Madrid."

CABINET COUNCIL HELD.

MADRID, April 14.—2 P. M.—A cabinet council at which the queen regent presided, was held this afternoon.

QUEEN REGENT SIGNS DECREE.

MADRID, April 14.—3:15 P. M.—The queen regent at the cabinet council signed the national subscription decree to increase the navy.

CORTES TO CONVENE AT ONCE.

MADRID, April 14—3 P. M.—A cabinet council has decided to reopen the Spanish parliament on Wednesday next, instead of April 20.

CUSTOM EXPECTS WAR.

MADRID, April 14.—8 A. M.—Marshal Martinez De Campos, the former captain general of Cuba, is quoted in an interview in the Liberal as having declined to express an opinion on the situation, owing to the fact that it might interfere with the course of events. He added that "intervention" and "requiring complete freedom" were compromising statements on one side or the other. The general, however, ventured to describe the situation as being most grave.

FLEET STILL AT VERDE ISLANDS.

ST. VINCENT, Cape Verde Island, April 14.—The Spanish armored cruisers Cristobal Colon and Maria Teresa have arrived here. The Spanish torpedo flotilla is still in these waters.

WAR IS CERTAIN.

MADRID, April 14—9 A. M.—The newspapers here regard war inevitable. The last dispatches from Washington have created profound excitement throughout Spain. The Spaniards protest against the "odious imputation" that Spanish officers were responsible for the loss of the Maine. It is asserted here that proof can be furnished to show that no torpedos have been laid in Havana harbor. The Official Gazette tomorrow will publish a decree organizing a national subscription to increase the strength of the Spanish fleet.

HOUSE WILL SWITCH.

Senate Resolution Will Pass That Body.

Republicans Already Organizing the Movement.

Fear a Delay Will Follow a Conference.

It Is Believed That the Senate Resolutions Will Prevail in the House by an Overwhelming Majority.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Some of the house republicans are already organizing a movement looking to the acceptance of the senate resolutions when they pass that body. They fear that if the resolutions go to a conference concessions may be made and delay may follow.

The senate resolutions being the more vigorous please many of the radicals better than the house resolutions. Mr. Brownell, of Ohio, and other republicans of the house after visiting their colleagues at the other end of the capitol today came back jubilant over the prospect that the senate would be held in continuous session until the vote was taken.

They have been conferring with their colleagues and the democrats and Mr. Brownell says he believes a motion to accept the senate resolutions will prevail in the house by an overwhelming majority.

WILL PREVENT OBSTRUCTION.

WASHINGTON, April 14—The senators who are anxious for early action on the Cuban resolutions have determined to hold continuous sessions if there is any disposition to delay action by debate.

The more radical senators say there are votes enough to adopt the Turpie amendment recognizing the present Cuban government. Those who think this is possible seem to think the house and senate will then compromise on substantially the majority resolutions of the senate committee.

POLO READY TO LEAVE.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Spanish Minister Polo has made final preparations for departure immediately after Madrid instructs him to leave. The French ambassador will care for Spain's interests.

NEW STEAMER PURCHASED.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The navy department today purchased the Red D line steamer Venezuela. The terms were not made public. Negotiations for the Paris and New York, the American Steamship company's big trans-Atlantic liners, it is stated, are still in progress, the question now being one of terms merely.

ORDER FOR WAR MULES.

WASHINGTON, April 14—The quartermaster general of the army has been instructed to purchase 1,000 mules for transportation purposes. The purchase probably will be made at St. Louis or Kansas City.

MR. JOHNSON, of Indiana, simply wouldn't be good.

SPAIN is likely to find that mines in Klondike pay larger dividends than mines in Havana harbor.

WHETHER the independence of Cuba is recognized now or later makes little difference. It is bound to come.

THE Spanish cortes should at once pass an anti-scalping bill. Five hundred Navajo Indians have volunteered their services to the government of the United States in the event of war with Spain.

GENERAL LEE says the lights did not go out in Havana the night the Maine was blown up. That, however, is not important. The lights of Havana will go out in a few days and the Maine disaster will in large part be the cause of the phenomenon.

NO BETTER place for the beginning of armed intervention can be found than right in the lower house of the congress of the United States.

IF SPAIN wants to know how like thunder Americans can fight, let her look to the house of representatives when steam is up and everything is well oiled and running.

THE only palliating feature of yesterday's fight in congress was the fact that it was waged on both sides in a good cause. It was only a difference as to the best way in which to do a good thing.

THE United States is something of a coaling station itself. Last year there was more coal dug within our boundaries than ever before. Nearly 200,000,000 tons of bituminous coal and more than 50,000,000 of anthracite were the nation's product.

BY all means let Fitzhugh Lee go back to Havana when the time comes. Give him a "half-and-half" division of "Yanks" and "Johnnies"—Bluff New Englanders, sturdy prairie men, grizzled mountaineers and impetuous boys from Dixie land—and he will go back to the Cuban city with all the ardor of a nature that was fashioned for courage and daring.

IT WAS a happy thought which inspired Secretary Long to rename the Morgan line steamers El Norte, El Sud, El Rio and El Sol, which had been purchased for auxiliary cruisers, the Yankee, Dixie, Prairie and Yosemite. The names chosen are typical of the four principal sections of the country. These four ships should always be found fighting together. That's what the four sections will do when the emergency comes.

"SPAIN must go" is the sentiment about which the feeling of the people of America has crystallized. Men of all parties and peace men and war men are agreed upon that proposition. At a peace mass meeting held in Boston a few nights ago Hon. Charles Francis Adams united with approval in saying once made to him by a British diplomat that there were two things that for the world's good should be ended—Turkish rule in Europe and Spanish rule in America. Cancers are only laboriously removed and with the shedding of blood, but better conditions follow the cutting.

BY agreeing to an amendment to the naval appropriation bill directing the building of the three harbor defense vessels of a strictly monitor type, the senate naval affairs committee reaffirms its faith in the efficacy of fighting machine which was the product of Ericsson's genius, backed by Trojan capital. There are a great many experts who still believe that the development of the monitor into the modern battleship has not been in the direction of improvement. But to argue about this question now is to waste time. It may be that before long the nation will have practical tests upon which to base a final decision.

THE total public debt of Spain, expressed in terms of the currency of this country, is $1,700,000,000. On this enormous principal there is an annual interest charge of $105,000,000. The public debt of Spain, therefore, averages nearly $100 per capita. The public debt of the United States averages but $15 per capita. Spain is bankrupt, her revenues are mortgaged and her resources seppol to almost the point of exhaustion. Cuba, which she is doomed to lose within a few weeks, is pledged for $100,000,000 in bonds. The United States can spend a billion for war and feel the burden less than Spain feels the burden of meeting her annual interest charges.

THE house of representatives has adopted a resolution declaring in effect that Spain must quit Cuba. It demands that the war in the island be stopped and empowers the president to employ the land and naval forces of the United States to intervene with force to put the purpose of the resolution into effect. The senate will doubtless concur in this resolution. There is to be armed intervention and that means war with Spain. What the outcome of conflict with Spain will be causes no apprehension to the people of this country. Defeat—utter, overwhelming and humiliating disaster to the foul Spanish cause—will be the issue of battle. But Spain driven from Cuba, and so far as Spain is concerned, peace restored to the island, what next? There will be no recognized government to give a pledge to the nations and assume responsibility for good order in Cuba. A government will have to be formed and the United States will have to participate in the work of constructing it. The insurgent party, which has fought three years and won with its arms the boon of the island's independence, will insist upon taking charge of the establishment of government. Indeed, as the insurgent party already has established a government, more or less distinct, will that party not demand that their government be permitted to extend and enforce its authority over the whole island? Will the insurgent party not hold that immediately upon the evacuation of Cuba by Spain there is recognition of its government? As the active war party that has fought Spain to a standstill, the insurgents have some rights that will be hard to ignore. Armed intervention by the United States means a series of serious problems for this government to solve. We drive Spain out of Cuba and we take the responsibility of giving Cuba a government.

After the regular session there will be a banquet to members and visiting brethren.

DAUGHTERS OF WORKMEN.

The Daughters of Workmen met in regular session on Tuesday evening. Although the attendance was not so large as usual, owing to the many other entertainments in the city, the meeting was full of enthusiasm. Two candidates were taken through the mysteries and secrets of the order. The drill team practiced their new drill, which they are getting in fine shape. This lodge meets every Tuesday evening in the K. of P. hall, on East Berry street.

ORDER RED CROSS.

The order will entertain their friends next Saturday evening with an ice cream social. There will be dancing in A. O. U. W. hall, corner Calhoun and Superior streets. A large crowd and a good time is expected. All work of the order will be abandoned and the entire evening given up for the pleasure of those in attendance.

G. A. R.

An open meeting of Anthony Wayne post will be held at their hall, corner of Main and Clinton streets, tomorrow evening. All comrades and families and widows, sons and daughters of soldiers are most cordially invited to come and enjoy a profitable evening.

UNDER WHITE FLAG.

Fighting Goes on in the Island of Cuba.

Several Skirmishes Officially Reported in Santa Clara and Santiago De Cuba Despite Armistice—Havana Prize

HAVANA, April 14.—8 a. m.—In spite of the Spanish decree suspending hostilities in Cuba, it is officially set forth today that "several skirmishes of no importance" have taken place in the provinces of Santa Clara and Santiago de Cuba.

The Diario de la Marino today, commenting upon President McKinley's message, says: "It can be formed a pill which McKinley has given the Yankees to swallow, sweetened by intervention powders. The general topics touched upon are nothing less than entirely inert matter."

Referring to the reconcentrados, the Diario De La Marino remarks: "They do not need Uncle Sam's help any more. Spain having devoted three million pesetas to their assistance. Besides this, the Spaniards of Mexico have given one million dollars for the same purpose. McKinley should know that General Blanco has revoked the reconcentrado orders, and that all the reconcentrados are going to work in the country and are joining their families. Then, why this charity display? Is it not to make fools of us? Humanitarianism does not set well on a people accustomed to read 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' without shedding tears for the negro slaves."

The Diario De La Marino also says it does not believe there is any truth in the "extracts from the message cited by Senor Angulo, the agent of the automatic government at Washington, quoting President McKinley as saying he considered annexation would be a great crime."

The Union Constitucional, touching on the same subject, says:

"Do not trouble yourself about sending any more dedicated beans."

Referring to the departure of General Fitzhugh Lee from Havana, the Union Constitucional expresses the opinion that he "will not return, because a man of character, whom he determines upon anything, lives up to it."

QUIET IN HAVANA.

HAVANA, April 14, 8 a. m.—All is as quiet as usual here today and business is being transacted in all circles. Hot, summer weather prevails, with the sky blue and a light breeze blowing. People are discussing the suspension of hostilities and President McKinley's message to congress.

BELDEN IS HERE.

Cleveland Outfielder Arrived in the City at Noon.

The Pittsburg League Team Was in Fort Wayne Today—New Goals for the Fort Wayne—Notes.

Ira Belden, the Cleveland outfielder who will play on the Fort Wayne team this season, arrived in the city at 11:15 o'clock today and this afternoon is at Lakeside park practicing with the balance of the team. Belden presents the appearance of a high-class ball player. A Cleveland correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer says Belden is the fastest player who has been in the Inter-State since Harry Blake went back to the Forest City. If Clark fails to arrive Manager O'Meara has his eye on a fast outfielder in Chicago, who will be signed.

TWO RELEASED.

Manager O'Meara last evening commenced to cut down his trial men by notifying Teal and Tate that he would not need them this season. Both are good players, but not quite up to the standard of the other players now in practice. Tate had not signed a contract.

PITTSBURG IS TOWN.

The Pittsburg league team was in the city today en route to St. Louis from Toledo over the Wabash railway. John Ganzell was with them and greeted Bobby Dickson, who, of course, was on hand. John says he is certain to play the initial bag for the Pirates.

NEW COATS.

The measures of sixteen men were taken today for handsome new coats which are to be worn by the members of the team this season. Campbell, Cook and Klum are the largest men on the team, except, of course, Ed. Herr. Each man will carry a suit bag and a bat bag this season and as they walk onto the several ball fields of the league they will present a far different appearance than many clubs.

TORRENSON TALKS SENSE.

Frank Torrenson, the Grand Rapids manager, has his ideas of how players should be treated when to lease. "If I had my way," said he, "it would never be mentioned when any man was dismissed from the team. I would much prefer that in event the public missed him it should be briefly stated that he had just gone home on a vacation or that he had secured a better place with another club. Nothing disrupts a team of ball players so much as flaunting in their faces all the time the fact that so and so has been released. And no release can be satisfactory to the entire public. Every man on the team has friends. As soon as a particular player is dropped his friends immediately espouse his cause. If a manager is lucky enough to keep them in ignorance of his action he is the gainer. He perhaps retains the friends' good will and he at least deserves the blessing of the released player, who is saved from discouragement and notoriety through failure to come up to the required standard."

FLICK IS DEVELOPING.

Elmer Flick, who was a member of the Dayton team in 1897, is making a great hit in practice with the Phillies. With Monte Cross he is leading the team in batting, with a per centage of .560, having fourteen hits in twenty-eight times at bat. He leads the team in long hits with three doubles, two triples and four home runs. Thus far he has played without an error. The other day Flick took part in a double play that has not been seen in Philadelphia for years. He played center field, and threw from the field to Stallings, who played first base.

ANSON GIVES UP.

After two months of fruitless efforts to raise enough money to purchase the Chicago base ball club, Anson has at last given up the attempt, and, in all probabilities, the team will remain under the present management until the expiration of the National league's lease of life, four years hence.

Anson lays the blame of the failure to two causes: The opposition of the management and the war scare. When seen at his home last night he had this to say: "I have given up the idea of securing the Chicago base ball club, for the present at least. The war with Spain, coupled with the opposition of the present management, has worked against me. The war scare in itself would have been bad enough, but even at that I might have won out if the management had not opposed me. Two months ago they gave me the option on the team, but they did it under protest and put barriers in my way of securing money every chance they had. In the evening I would see some capitalist and he would agree to furnish me with the necessary money. In the morning the same man would be entirely changed. The only way I can account for this change would be the fact that he had been tampered with by the people who did not want to see me own the club. The two months I had was more than sufficient under ordinary circumstances. After I had become thoroughly convinced the present management did not want to see me in possession I gave up the idea. I do not know just what I will do or what business I will enter into in the future."

NOTES.

Negotiations are in progress in Youngstown and will probably be concluded today by which a syndicate, composed of enterprising men there, will own the franchise and paraphernalia of the Youngstown Inter-State league club. The proposition provides for the carrying out of all existing contracts.

EAGER FOR WAR.

People Greet Soldiers With Enthusiasm.

Journey of Colored Troops to Chickamauga Park Causes the Latent War Spirit.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 14.—If any doubt existed regarding the patriotism and war like feeling of the residents of Illinois, Indiana and Tennessee, along the line of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad, it would have been swept away by the reception given the Twenty-fifth infantry as it passed along. In every town, on every street crossing and on the depot platforms men waved their arms in frantic token of approval, and in most instances seconded their gestures by yells. In the larger towns where the train stopped for a few moments the crowd got so closely in upon the cars that it was impossible for the soldiers to leave the train at all.

"I was among those who answered the first call in 1861," said the commanding officer, Colonel Andrew Burt, today, "and those scenes along the way are very similar to those that greeted us as we went to the front thirty-seven years ago."

At one small station where the train stopped for water the colonel was standing upon the steps of the car watching the crowd and as the soldiers and people yelled their mutual approval the colonel said to the men on the platform:

"Are you going to follow us, boys, if war comes?"

"We are coming right after you," shouted several and Colonel Burt climbed back into the train with the remark: "I guess these fellows are all right."

The men of the Twenty-fifth are full of fight and it was shown in good style last night as the train left Terre Haute. A young fellow on the platform shouted in joke: "Hurrah for Spain," and instantly there was a break by several soldiers to reach him. They were held back by the non-commissioned officers, who explained that it was meant as a joke.

"That don't matter" was the reply. "They don't nobody tall us to hurrah for Spain."

The regiment stopped about thirty minutes today at Nashville and then started for Chatanooga, where it is expected to arrive at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Eight companies will be camped there in Chickamauga park and two companies with orders from the war department will continue on their way to Key West.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Death's Betrothal.

A few years ago a New York newspaper conducted an open discussion upon the topics "Is Marriage a Failure?" The answer is easy and upon the surface. Where there is mutual love and respect, if there is also health, marriage is a success. When health is left out, even the most ardent love does not count, and marriage is invariably a failure.

Modern science has cried the warning so often that all should realize the dangers of weakness in people in ill-health. In a case of this kind death lurks on every side—in the kiss of betrothal and the caress of the honeymoon. The man who is suffering from ill-health is a physical bankrupt, and has no right to condemn a woman to be his nurse for life and the mother of babes that reflect his physical weakness. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts directly on the digestive organism. It makes it strong and its action perfect. When a man's digestion is all right his blood will be pure; when his blood is pure his nervous system will be strong and his health vigorous.

A woman who suffers from weakness and disease of the distinct organism of her sex is certain to suffer from general ill-health, and to be an unhappy, helpless invalid and burden. Disappointment as a wife. Her children will be weak, puny and peevish. A happy home is an impossibility for her until her health is restored. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures all troubles of the distinctly feminine organism. It cures them speedily, completely and permanently. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Both medicines are sold by all good dealers.

SHOP AND RAIL.

Cannons and Rifles Pass Through the City.

An Interesting Experiment With Acetylene Gas as an Illuminant—Gossip.

For the past three or four nights No. 54, on the Nickel Plate, has in part been made up of cars loaded with rifles, cannons and accoutrements of war, en route from the west to the Atlantic seaboard points where they will be needed if hostilities with Spain should occur. Last night this train had two box cars loaded with rifles, billed to Norfork, Va. They were to be turned over to the Baltimore and Ohio road at Fostoria.

PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE.

Indiana has 8,187 miles of railroad main line, Spain 7,617 miles.

Nickel Plate Engineer J. A. Swartz is looking after private business at Continental, Ohio.

Mrs. Frank Frary, wife of the Wabash machinist, has gone to Toledo to visit friends a few days.

The Wabash lines carried in the first week of April $236,000, an increase over the corresponding week of $13,015.

George Daugherty, an employe at the Nickel Plate round house, has been visiting friends in Bellevue for a few days.

Nickel Plate Conductor Risenhun has recovered from his recent illness and is working again after a week's absence.

L. T. Canfield, master car builder of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, has resigned and is succeeded by J. Van Dell, promoted.

George Gould has perfected arrangements for building an extension of the Missouri Pacific from McCracken, Kan., to Denver, 185 miles.

Thomas Pfeiffer, who had been visiting friends in the vicinity of Hobart, Ind., resumed his duties in the Nickel Plate round-house yesterday.

Daniel Pelgen resumed charge of the Pittsburg copper and tin shop this morning. For several days he was in Altoona, Pa., on business for the company.

Harry Drew, one of the projectors of the Chicago, Indiana and Eastern, says the track layers will be at work by May 1 laying track between Fairmount and Converse.

Walter Stanley, caller at Nickel Plate train crews, was hunting ducks at Knox yesterday. Charles Hamel, son of the engineer, worked for Mr. Stanley during the day.

The Missouri Car and Foundry company, of St. Louis, has secured the contract to build 1,500 box and 500 stock cars for the Union Pacific road, deliveries to commence May 1.

Engineer S. Hooper and Fireman F. Roembke, of the Nickel Plate, are again on their old engine, No. 95, which has just been turned out of the Stony Island shops, thoroughly repaired.

The stockholders of the Kansas City, Excelsior Springs and Northern road, the connecting link between the Wabash and the Milwaukee roads, have elected Henry Garland, of the Wabash, president.

It is stated that S. R. Calloway, who is to be the head of the Vandorbilt lines, favors the policy of making faster time between New York and Chicago, and advocates running fast limited trains in both directions in eighteen hours, six hours quicker than the present schedule.

The Erie Railway company has planned to make extensive improvements at Huntington, Ind., this season. One will be the erection of a new freight house, 300 feet long by fifty feet wide, and additional sidetracks will be laid. The transfer house at the crossing of the Wabash road will be abandoned.

The Pullman company will have on exhibition at the Omaha exposition the same train that is exhibited at the Chicago, the Atlanta and Nashville expositions. Col. C. C. Chennalt, who has been with the Pullman company as a conductor twenty-eight years, will have charge of the train while at Omaha. It is made up of the cars Isabella, Marchesa, Parthenan and Amaranthus.

The Bass Foundry and Machine works yesterday shipped two large steel tanks to the Cleveland Cliffs Mining company, at Gladstone, Mich.

C. Starkey, a rail builder at the Pittsburg shops, is off duty on account of sickness. J. Clark, of the shipping department, is off duty to look after some private business.

M. P. Gaskill, a painter in the Pittsburg shops, got some paint scales in his eyes while cleaning a tank prior to repainting. Dr. K. K. Wheelock removed the stuff from the optics.

A large motor left the electric works this morning for Medina, N. Y. The corporation also sent another motor out to the Bowser Oil Tank works, making ten now in that institution.

John Hendler, the inventor, made an interesting exhibition of acetylene gas lights at the Gruber grocery, on Witt street, last evening, which was witnessed by a number of people. He had rigged up ten lights, which were supplied with gas from a common generator and with this plant he was enabled to illuminate the building so brilliantly as to make the most remote corner as light as day. This plant will be in operation again tonight.

YOUNG PATRIOTS

Have Organized a Military Company in the West End.

The Lads of Fort Wayne Will Fight for the Red, White and Blue With Wooden Guns.

The blood of the true American courses through the veins of the boys in the west end of the city.

Some time ago a party of twenty-five lads, ranging in years from ten to sixteen, organized a company and elected Ed. Lakens captain. They left an order for twenty-five wooden guns at Diether's, and these instruments of supposed destruction were duly made and delivered. The company commenced to grow and a second order for twenty-five of these guns was made. The boys have learned many of the manoeuvres and beside guns have been secured in a carpenter shop near their homes. They are all patriots and who can tell but that they may all become soldiers on the battlefield should the expected war with Spain continue through many years.

Union Workmen.

We have a shop full of them and are paying union rate of wages; no boys at $4.50 to $5.00 per week; that is why our bicycle repair work is always satisfactory. You may think our prices high but they are as low as we can afford to do first-class work.

Auburn Courier: "The Athletic carnival held here Tuesday evening was a decided success. Master Burt Bardner, the contortionist, gave an exhibition with the ring. Andy Yates and Kid Cramer sparred for points. Cramer was docked out in two minutes. The wrestling match in which Henry West was to throw Herbert Yale twice in one hour was the principal event. Hale was down in eight minutes. Hale is considered the champion of Indiana. Hale's friends are trying to arrange another contest with West. This would decide the state champion-ship."

A GRAND SURPRISE

To Hundreds Who Are Testing "Hyomei."

One Week's Trial of the New Antiseptic Affords Them

Greater Relief Than Months of Treatment by the Old Method.

Physicians Find That the Disease Germs of Catarrh,

Bronchitis and Asthma are Killed at Once by the New Germicide

Which is Carried to All Parts of the Head, Throat and Lungs by the Air You Breathe.

The testimony of over thirty-six hundred regular physicians, who, over their own signatures, have declared "Hyomei" to be the most successful remedy ever used by them in the treatment of diseases of the head, throat and lungs, is the strongest endorsement ever given to any preparation, and the only one of the kind in the history of medicine.

Just think of it, after having tested every treatment known, liquids, sprays, douches and atomizers, and cast them aside as useless, these representative medical men claim the Australian dry air method of treating catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, coughs, colds, asthma and hay fever to be the only one by which all parts of the air passages can be reached and cured. This decision means a great deal to the thousands of people suffering from these diseases. It means that they need no longer waste their time and money on methods which have proved worthless. It means that they need not endanger their hearing or lose their sense of smell and taste by forcing liquid medicines into the air passages with sprays, douches and atomizers.

It means many other things favorable to the health and happiness of the people of this country, but, best of all, it means freedom from suffering to those who are afflicted with diseases of the air passages in the head, throat and lungs, and have found no relief from any of the old methods of treatment.

"HYOMEI" CURES BY INHALATION.

It is nature's own remedy, taken with the air you breathe, it reaches all the parts affected, killing the germs of disease at once, and bringing such relief to the sufferer as can be obtained in no other way.

There is no danger, no risk. Your money is refunded if it fails to relieve.

FIRST INDIANA.

Officers Who Will Command the Regiment.

Colonel McKee, Lieutenant Colonel Gunder, Surgeon Sherr and Chaplain Carstensen.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 14.—The officers of the First Indiana regiment to take the field in a war with Spain, according to the present plans of the governor, and providing none of the gentlemen named below decline service, will be as follows:

Colonel—William J. McKee, of Indianapolis.

Lieutenant Colonel—George W. Gunder, of Marion.

Majors—George H. Pennington, of New Albany; Harry B. Smith, of Indianapolis; George M. Studebaker, of South Bend.

Surgeon—E. L. Sivur, of Fort Wayne.

Chaplain—Rev. G. A. Carstensen, of Indianapolis.

Mr. Gunder is at present colonel of the Fourth regiment, Mr. Pennington of the First and Mr. Studebaker of the Third. Rev. Carstensen is prepared to go to the front at once; and, in fact, did his congregation, that of St. Paul's church, a tentative farewell the Sunday before Easter.

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

Governor Mount is going to take advantage of the opportunity afforded by the trip of General McKee to Washington to represent the Indiana National Guard at the conference of the chief officers of various state military organizations, to be held in the rooms of the house committee on military affairs, and make through the Indiana representative some suggestions anent a reorganization of the Nation Guard throughout the country.

"I am in favor," said the governor, "of the government making more liberal provisions for the Nation Guard in a financial way."

Among the suggestions made by the governor was one to the effect that the government should provide barracks for the state militia in the cities or towns where the companies are stationed. He also favors a readjustment of the rule governing the national guard, making them more stringent than they are now. All this, he thinks, would tend to place the national guard of the country nearly on an equal footing with the regular army maintained by the government.

A letter was received by Governor Mount yesterday from John Jacob Astor, president of the Findlay, Fort and Western railway company, offering the free use of the line for the transportation of troops and supplies on for any other public services that may be required. The road extends from Findlay, Ohio, to Fort Wayne, Ind., and is sixty-two miles in length. The governor replied, acknowledging the receipt of the offer and thanking Mr. Astor for his generosity.

FAIR WILL BE A GO.

Citizens Display Interest in the Projected Carnival.

P. A. Randall Elected President of the Organization Which Will Have Charge of the Affair.

Fort Wayne is now almost certain to have a street fair the coming fall, especially if the interest displayed by citizens last evening is any criterion to judge by. It rained, was chilly and disagreeable, but this did not prevent a hundred or more of the city's most enterprising business men from attending the mass meeting at the city hall to agitate a street fair. Messrs. E. C. Rerode, Louis Fox and Ben Lehman had worked indefatigably for the success of the meeting and they were well repaid for the attendance. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Rerode, who stated its purpose and paying a high compliment to P. A. Randall, who so successfully managed the Fort Wayne centennial celebration, suggested that he be chosen chairman of the evening. This recommendation was unanimously accepted by the citizens present and A. H. Dougall was unanimously selected secretary. A motion that the chairman appoint a committee on permanent organization was carried and Mr. Randall appointed as that committee Messrs. Louis Fox, E. C. Rurode and Ben Lehman.

While this committee was selecting a permanent committee, Mr. Benson, a gentleman who has had wide experience in affairs of this character, talked to the people and explained that work would be necessary to make it a success. In almost every instance he knew that thousands of people had been brought to the cities enterprising enough to give the shows and merchants work will repaid for the outlay necessary to bring the people into the towns. The streets and sidewalks are given up to the exhibits and in the evening there is always some carnival of fun. He always some carnival of fun. He started the cost of these exhibitions in other cities and believed that Fort Wayne could have a carnival Fort Wayne could have a carnival at very small cost and the revenues would be enormous. Mr. Benson suggested a program as follows:

First Night—Crowning the queen of the carnival. Ball, grand march led by royal couple.

Second Night—Carnival parade. Queen of the carnival drives the monster cars, through the streets and out of the city.

Third Night—Parade of the queen and royal house, followed by floats of peace, plenty, pleasure, etc.

Fourth Night—Grand mardi gras parade. Everybody on the streets, on masque, and march fast, furious, and unbounded. Flowers, music, calcium lights, fire works—a reign of pleasure, full, free and untrammeled.

Shows, entertainments, exhibitions, and every mode of pleasure imaginable will occupy the interim.

When Mr. Benson had completed his talk the committee on permanent organization reported its follows and the recommendations were unanimously approved:

President—P. A. Randall.

Secretary—Allen B. Dougall.

Treasurer—John Mohr, jr.

Executive Committee—W. F. Gruter, F. V. Culbertson, L. A. Worch, R. G. Thompson, S. F. Bowser, P. L. Taft, E. G. White, Ben Lehman, Louis Fox, Fred Peters, H. J. Miller, E. C. Rurode, W. E. Mossman, Henry Headoll, D. N. Foster, A. F. Glatting, J. B. Rones, A. J. Hurst, Olmn Apt, Theodore Frank, C. R. Higgins, A. Mergenthaler, R. B. Hanna, G. R. Heach, C. E. Rossa, Sam Wolf, L. F. Cordes, A. J. Friend, F. M. Smith, C. C. Schlatter, R. W. T. DeWald and Fred Sihler.

Mr. Randall accepted the presidency, stating that he fully realized the hard work ahead of him, but believed that with the earnest support of Fort Wayne citizens his labors could be somewhat lightened and the carnival made a complete success. He suggested that the ladies be asked to participate in the arrangements as no persons had worked harder than they did for the success of the centennial. More than $10,000 had been raised for the centennial and he believed an equal sum could be raised for the street fair.

The above committee will probably be enlarged on the suggestion of Col. C. R. Oakley, who was mayor during the centennial, and be made permanent.

Among others who spoke were A. S. Lauferty, H. C. Rockhill, Col. C. R. Oakley, R. B. Hanna, F. V. Culbertson, Ben Lehman, C. F. Muhler, Louis Heilbronner, J. B. Rones and Walter Hartman, who was secretary of the Auburn Street Fair association.

The executive committee will hold a meeting next Tuesday evening, at the Randall hotel parlors.

LUTHERAN SYNOD.

Four Hundred Delegates in Attendance.

One of the Important Offices Falls to C. A. Krause, of Fort Wayne.

The Indiana district of the Evangelical Lutheran Missouri synod met in St. Paul's German Evangelical Lutheran church, corner of McCarty and South New Jersey streets. They represented the three states of the district, Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky. The conference will be in session for six days, ending next Tuesday evening. This meeting promises to eclipse any previous meeting ever held by the district.

Rev. Joseph A. Bohn, of Fort Wayne, secretary of the funds for pastors, teachers, widows and orphans, reported disbursements during the year of $1,635.55 and a balance in the treasury of $86. The money required to carry on this work for the next year was estimated at $2,000. There are 140 regularly ordained pastors and eighty parochial schools in the district.

The officers of the synod are as follows:

President—J. Kleinau, Cleveland.

Secretary—J. Riedesmann.

Treasurer—C. A. Krause, Fort Wayne.

The three educational institutions belonging to the synod are well represented. They are the Concordia college at Fort Wayne and Milwaukee and the Lutheran theological seminary of St. Louis. Before being admitted to preach a candidate must first take a six years' course at one of the colleges and complete it with a three years' course at the seminary.

PLAN OF CAMPAIGN.

United States Ready to Begin Hostilities.

Land and Naval Forces Will Make Simultaneous Attack on Havana—Will Cable With Gomez.

New York, April 14.—A special to the Times from Washington says:

The plans for the joint land and naval attack on Havana have been practically decided on. They have been the subject of deliberation of a number of meetings of the naval strategic board, of councils of the joint war and navy board and of conferences between the governmental and military officials. From the first it was considered absolutely essential that there should be a joint movement of the land and naval forces of the United States against the Spaniards in Cuba, and the only thing left for discussion was the best course to be pursued in carrying out this plan. The difficulty that has continually presented itself is the fact that the navy is ready for an advance on Havana within an hour after the declaration of war, while the army could not possibly throw any considerable force in Cuba in less than forty-eight hours. Should the fleet of Captain Sampson wait until the army was ready? has been asked. Or should it, as soon as war was determined on, proceed to carry out its instructions and invest Havana from the sea?

It is now decided that the fleet will at once move on Havana, invest it and at the same time hold open the Florida straits for the free transportation of troops into the island. A part of the fleet will be employed for this purpose, as well as to keep upon the gulf to the west of Havana for a like purpose.

As soon as the army is ready, which will be within forty-eight hours, a considerable body of troops would be thrown into the province of Pinar Del Rio in the neighborhood, probably, of Bahia Honda and an advance upon Havana will be begun at once. The fleet will co-operate with the land forces from the moment they land in Cuba and both will attack Havana simultaneously.

Even if the resolution finally passed by congress does not recognize the present republican government in the island, the plan of the army is to unite with the armies of Gomez and Garcia as allies against the Spaniards. It is probable that troops will be sent to join these revolutionary armies in Puerto Principe or Santa Clara, or that ships will be sent to transport some of the Cuban troops to the vicinity of the capital. In any event, an effort will be made to cooperate at once with the armies of the revolutionary leaders in the work of driving the Spaniards out of the island. With the establishment of a stable and independent government in free Cuba, the army will have nothing to do at least in the preliminary part of the campaign.

Its task is to sweep the Spaniards out of the island. To do this most effectively it will at once seek the closest alliance with the revolutionary troops.

As soon as war is declared the war department will issue, upon the call of the president, orders for the enlistment of at least 150,000 troops. At first there was some talk of 50,000 volunteers, being sufficient for the purpose, but it was soon found that this number would not be sufficient to keep up the garrisons along the coast, together with a body of troops sufficiently large to defend the country from invasion.

It would not be at all adequate to the task of supplying reinforcements for the army of occupation or of forming a nucleus of a still larger army for any operations on a larger scale than is now contemplated. Certainly not less than 50,000 troops will be called for at once and 150,000 will be assuredly organized within a short time after the opening of hostilities. Orders for the organization of a great volunteer force are now prepared and can be issued instantly upon a declaration of war.

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement, that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her daughter suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well; now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at Dreier & Bro.'s drug store. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters;' and, to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts per bot. at Dreier & Bros. drug store.
